Student Handbook

2011-2012

WELCOME TO THE TLU COMMUNITY

Welcome to Texas Lutheran University! We are glad you are here.

The start of the fall academic term is an exciting time on a college campus, with the quiet of the summer giving way to the energy of new and returning students. September always brings the excitement of starting fresh, complete with “New Year’s” resolutions: to study harder, use time more wisely, live healthier, take on new challenges and reach stretch goals.

Whether you are a new or returning student at TLU, this is a new beginning for you, full of promise and opportunity. Now is the time to set bold expectations for yourself. I challenge you to move outside your comfort zone this year, and discover and develop your talents. Surprise others—and yourself—with what you accomplish. Know that the faculty and staff of TLU are here to support and encourage as you prepare to respond to your own calling.

This is a new beginning for me as well, my first year as president. Together let’s resolve to make the most of our time at TLU, starting today.

I. STUDENT OBLIGATIONS

Expectations

This handbook is a compilation of information regarding student life at the University. Students are expected to be familiar with the contents of this handbook. The University assumes that students have read it thoroughly and become acquainted with all the policies and regulations it covers. Whether resident or non-resident, student or guest, the rules listed herein are applicable under the designated circumstances.

The information in this handbook is up to date as of the time of publication. Changes may have occurred without notice following its publication, however. If so, campus wide notification will be made through University email and a hard copy can be downloaded and printed at the user's convenience.

While this handbook covers most of the University's guidelines and policies, students should be familiar with other publications of the University as well, among them the University catalog, and various brochures. If any item in this handbook seems vague or ambiguous, please bring questions to the Student Life and Learning office in the Alumni Student Center for clarification.

Please note that throughout this handbook residence halls refer to the traditional halls of Clifton, Trinity, Baldus, Hahn, Knutson, Kraushaar and Seguin Hall. Other residential buildings are referred to as apartments.

Responsibilities

By applying for admission, all students assume full responsibility for their conduct and actions while at Texas Lutheran University. Texas Lutheran University assumes a non-custodial relationship with students. Each student is considered an adult and is accordingly susceptible to legal responsibility for his or her acts or omissions. In the event any assertion or claim for damages is made against Texas Lutheran University due to the negligent or intentional act or omission of any student, the University reserves the right to seek contribution from or indemnity by the student as to all such claims, damages, costs, or expenses incurred by the University in connection with such claim.

II. MISSION STATEMENT

Texas Lutheran University is a community of learning and a community of faith. As a community of learning, the University stresses the liberating potential of the disciplined pursuit of academic excellence within the context of academic freedom. Its faculty and staff seek to engage each student in a process of self-education as it will assist him or her to develop as an informed and resourceful person in today's rapidly changing world. It provides an academic program based upon the tradition of the liberal arts and designed to serve a diversified community.

As a community of faith, the University celebrates the liberating power of gospel as applied to the whole of human life. The biblical vision of the world as created, judged, redeemed and fulfilled by God in Christ is rich in significance for the work and hopes of persons today. It is the unique privilege and responsibility of the Christian university to explore these implications freely and boldly. Thus it leads the church to face the challenge of new insights and to formulate fresh means of creative service.

As an institution of the church, the University provides an education in the arts and sciences that is given perspective by the Christian faith. This function is carried out through an undergraduate curriculum leading to the bachelor's degree, a diverse continuing education program, and a variety of co-curricular programs. The University encourages students to participate in service work tied to reflective discussions about its place in their lives.

In working to bring learning and faith into intimate relationship, Texas Lutheran University is discovering afresh that each can strengthen, clarify and enrich each other. Men and women who live and work in these contexts find their own purposes enlarged and deepened. A compassion born of faith and a competence informed by learning shape the mission of the University in this day (adopted by the faculty in 1967; revised in 1979 and 1998).

IV. UNIVERSITY REGULATIONS & POLICIES

General Provisions

A student who enrolls at Texas Lutheran voluntarily becomes a part of a community where respect for others is the norm, and rational, mature behavior is expected. The voluntary entrance into the community implies acceptance by the student of University regulations, and the failure to comply with these standards subjects the student to disciplinary action.

Many University regulations are simply a formal statement of those principles of conduct commonly accepted in our society. Others are statements of additional items necessary for the successful functioning of a residential academic community. As a result, some University standards may go beyond those of society in general.

Students lose neither their rights nor their responsibilities of citizenship when they enroll and are therefore expected to exercise mature conduct both on and off campus. They are responsible to civil authorities for any violation of civil law, which includes local, state and federal laws. When civil law has been violated, the University may also take disciplinary action when it is deemed that the University's principles or interests have been compromised as well. If a student commits a felony on the campus, the University reserves the right to take disciplinary action if its own interests are affected. This may be in addition to whatever actions are taken by civil authorities. The University does not attempt to protect the student from the law by substituting its own disciplinary action for that of the State's. Law enforcement officials are notified whenever evidence of a possible violation of civil law has been found.

General Regulations & Policies

Academic Advisors: Every student at TLU is assigned a faculty advisor who offers guidance and support in both academics and co-curricular experiences. Some of the things faculty advisors can help with are:

- Short and long term academic planning
- Explaining the requirements for the major
- Providing information regarding opportunities for internships, departmental honors and organizations, and research projects
- Offering advice about graduate and professional schools
- Answering questions about academic policies and procedures
- Answering questions about careers in the major field and give direction to other sources for career information
- Pointing students in the right direction when unsure where to go for assistance

The academic advising program is administered by the Division of Student Life and Learning and all questions may be referred there.

Academic and Political Expression:

Speakers, Videos, and Films

The University encourages a wide variety of viewpoints and welcomes all responsible speakers on issues of interest to the community at large. To ensure a climate of reasoned communication, rather than indoctrination or intimidation, an attempt should be made to maintain a reasonable balance of perspectives within a series of lectures or other media presentations. This does not imply a one-for-one balance or "equal time" for all points of view; rather it suggests a selective balance and equal opportunity.

- To maximize communication and publicity on campus and in the news media, notice of events that have been scheduled or are to be scheduled should be circulated by the sponsor to the president, the vice president and dean of student life and learning, the provost, the senior vice president, and the student government president far enough in advance of scheduled dates to allow for adequate publicity and hospitality arrangements. Speakers will normally be invited and hosted by an academic department; a campus organization or committee; or by the president, provost, or vice presidents in an official capacity.

- To avoid unnecessary embarrassment to the speaker or the University, a group or individual who wants to schedule a controversial speaker should solicit the advice of the president, provost, senior vice president, vice president and dean of student life and learning, or department chairperson before completing arrangements with the speaker. If such a speaker requires extraordinary police protection or security, the sponsors may be asked to cover the extra expense of this.
- To avoid unnecessary embarrassment to the University, a group or individual who wants to schedule a controversial video or film should solicit the advice of the president, provost, senior vice president, vice president and dean of student life and learning, or department chairperson before completing arrangements with the rental agency. As a general rule, "X"-rated videos or films are not to be a part of a university class or activity and are not to be shown on campus.

Free Speech and Assembly

Texas Lutheran upholds the right to free speech; freedom to dissent is a necessary ingredient of a liberal arts education. However, the right to free speech does not provide a license to abuse other persons or carelessly disregard their rights. Guidelines include the following:

- Students have the right to peaceful assembly in order to express personal views or to support causes through orderly means so long as such expression does not interfere with the educational and administrative activities of the University. Disruptive or coercive actions and interference with the normal activities of the University are treated as serious violations of university policy. The vice president and dean of student life and learning must be informed of the plan for assembly and the purpose for demonstration in advance of the event, including off-campus assembly and demonstration by a student organization.
- Guest speakers on the campus are to be given the courtesy of an uninterrupted presentation. Harassment of invited speakers or the obstruction of the event by threat, coercive activity, or the restraint of participants is destructive to the pursuit of learning in a free society and is not tolerated.
- Students and organizations may distribute printed announcements or pamphlets on campus provided that they are not distributed in classroom buildings, chapel, library, or door-to-door in the residence halls and provided that they are not profane, obscene, libelous, or slanderous in printed or photographic content.
- All materials (announcements, flyers, posters, etc.) distributed and posted must contain the name of the sponsoring organization along with a contact name and number and/or e-mail address.
- No one may invoke the name of the University without official permission from the president, the provost, or the senior vice president.
- Violators are subject to laws of the current Texas Penal Code.

Political Campaigns

Texas Lutheran encourages students to participate in the political process and offers the following guidelines:

- All recognized political parties and their candidates may campaign on campus. Such campaigns will abide by all university regulations regarding conduct within our community.
- All candidates must have a student campus coordinator. This individual must register with the student government association president and the director of student activities and show proof that the coordinator is a campaign worker for the candidate or party. Until this is accomplished, the coordinator may not distribute literature, post signs, or otherwise campaign on campus. The coordinator will be responsible for the party's or candidate's activity on campus and for any violation of campus regulations.
- Any on-campus or off-campus group wishing to use University facilities for community political events must rent the space desired by having the coordinator work with the director of student activities.

- When politicians are invited to speak, an attempt should be made to encourage appropriate groups to invite the opposing candidate(s).
- Campaign materials are not to be distributed through campus mail. Bumper stickers and other adhesive signs are not to be attached to campus buildings or property. Leaflets and pamphlets can be distributed using the guidelines above. The North Halls, the South Halls and Seguin Hall councils will regulate other political activity within the residence halls. All campaign material must be removed within three days following the election.
- Campaigning via the University's telecommunications and email systems is prohibited.
- The use and rental of sound equipment on the campus must be approved by the director of student activities.
- Students who participate in off-campus political activities do so as individuals, not as representatives of the University.

Academic Honesty & Plagiarism: As a community of learning and faith, Texas Lutheran expects all members of the community, whether students, faculty or staff, to maintain the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

What is Academic Dishonesty?

The most common forms of academic dishonesty are cheating and plagiarism. Cheating includes but is not limited to:

- Submitting material that is not one's own as part of the course performance, such as copying from another student's exam, or allowing another student to copy from one's exam;
- Using information or devices not allowed by the faculty, such as cell phones and other electronic devices, calculators, head phones, or any other type of external assistance during an examination or other academic exercise;
- Obtaining and using prohibited material, such as textbook solution manuals, test banks, or a copy of an examination before it is given;
- Fabricating information, such as data for a lab report;
- Violating procedures prescribed to protect the integrity of an assignment, test, or other evaluation;
- Collaborating with others on assignments without the instructor's consent;
- Cooperating with or helping another student in cheating;
- Other forms of dishonest behavior, such as having another person take an exam in one's place, altering exam answers and requesting the exam be re-graded; or communicating with anyone other than the proctor or instructor during an exam.

Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to:

- Directly quoting the words of others without using quotation marks or indented format to identify them; or
- Using sources (published or unpublished) without identifying them; or
- Paraphrasing material or ideas of others without identifying the sources.

Students unsure about something that they want to do or the proper use of material should ask the instructor for clarification.

Students must not cheat or plagiarize, and they must not condone these behaviors nor assist others who cheat or plagiarize. Academic misconduct not only jeopardizes the career of the individual student involved, but it also undermines the scholastic achievements of all students and attacks the mission of this institution. Students are responsible for doing their own work, thereby insuring the integrity of their academic records. Violations of academic honesty involve two required components and a third component at the instructor's discretion.

1. Academic penalties for cheating (which includes plagiarism) are imposed by the instructor, usually after consultation with the department chair, through the grade and/or credit issued. Faculty members may determine appropriate sanctions on a case-by-case basis. If the student disputes any instance of failing due to academic dishonesty, whether it is for a grade on a single assignment or a course grade, he/she may file an appeal with the Admissions, Academic Standards, and Advising Committee (AAA). The provost serves as the appeal for all AAA decisions. It is suggested that the academic advisor and the department chair be notified of all such occurrences and the follow-up.

2. In addition to whatever penalties are assessed by the professor in the classroom, the professor is to report the incident to the vice president and dean of student life and learning to be put in the student's file.
3. At the professor's discretion, he or she may also file a code of conduct complaint against the student for breaking the TLU academic honesty/plagiarism policy as outlined in the TLU Student Handbook.
4. Students who accrue three incidents of cheating are charged automatically with breaking the code of conduct. The student who is charged with a code of conduct complaint then enters the TLU judicial process and the incident is viewed as a disciplinary violation.
5. Judicial records are kept on every incident providing a written record. Flagrant or repeated occurrences of academic dishonesty can lead to dismissal of the student from the University.

Academic Standing: A student admitted to Texas Lutheran University is assumed to have the ability, the preparation, and the motivation to make satisfactory progress toward a degree. Some students, however, do not make the progress expected of them. Students not achieving minimum standards of progress are notified, offered academic counseling, and given the opportunity to improve their work. Should suitable progress not be shown, they will be dismissed.

Minimum standards of progress are expressed in terms of a cumulative grade point average. The regulations regarding academic deficiency are designed to provide adequate warning and information to students who fall below the 2.0 cumulative grade average, the minimum required for graduation from Texas Lutheran University.

Good Standing

To be in good academic standing, a freshman student must have a cumulative grade point average of 1.80 or higher. Upon attaining sophomore classification (27 hours), the student must have a cumulative grade point average of 2.0. Students who fall below these requirements are placed on academic probation.

Academic Honors: Dean's List/Provost List

Dean's and Provost's Lists recognize full time students (12 or more graded hours) who have successfully completed a full load of semester credits with the requisite grade point average (3.5-3.99 for Dean's List; 4.0 for Provost List). Students who receive incomplete grades do not qualify for such recognition in that semester.

Academic Warning

A student whose semester GPA falls below 2.0, but whose cumulative GPA is at least 2.0 will receive an academic warning from the director of registration and records. This letter serves to alert the student to possible difficulties in the future if a 2.0 is not achieved. No entry is made on the student's permanent record.

Academic Probation

A student is placed on academic probation if the student has a cumulative grade point average below 2.0 (for sophomore, junior, or senior students) or, for freshmen students (those with fewer than 27 semester hours earned) a cumulative grade point average below a 1.80. The cumulative GPA is based only on credit hours attempted at Texas Lutheran University.

Students placed on probation must, in the next semester (including the summer session, if enrolled) earn a cumulative GPA better than the previous cumulative GPA. Students must achieve good academic standing after two consecutive semesters on probation (excluding the summer, if enrolled) or they will be suspended.

A student is removed from academic probation when the cumulative GPA rises to a 2.0 (for sophomore, junior, or senior students) or, for freshman students, rises to a 1.80.

When a student is readmitted to TLU after having been suspended, he/she is admitted on academic probation. The student must in the first semester back at TLU, raise his/her cumulative GPA or be again suspended and/or dismissed.

Students on Academic probation are prohibited from participating in co-curricular activities (including intercollegiate athletics, fraternity/sorority activities, and student government) and may lose some or all financial aid. Special consideration should be paid to the student's academic load while the student is on probation.

Academic Suspension

A student on academic probation whose cumulative GPA does not improve is placed on academic suspension for one or more long semesters. Academic suspension also occurs if the student does not achieve good standing after two consecutive semesters or sessions (excluding the summer, if enrolled) on probation.

The first suspension is for one long semester. A second suspension is for one year.

These regulations also apply to any student who is admitted to Texas Lutheran University on academic probation.

Students on academic suspension from Texas Lutheran University generally are not eligible to present credits earned at another institution during the period of suspension for transfer credit upon their return to TLU.

For students using VA educational benefits, see the section on Veterans Affairs in the TLU Catalog for additional satisfactory progress requirements.

Academic Dismissal

Students who receive a third academic suspension will be academically dismissed from the University. Students who receive an academic dismissal may not return to Texas Lutheran University.

Appeal Procedures

Students who are academically suspended from TLU may appeal their suspension to the Admissions, Advising and Academic Standards (AAA) Committee, whose decision is final. The appeal should detail the reasons for thinking the circumstances of the case warrant special consideration. The appeal must be filed no later than two weeks prior to registration for the following semester. The appeal will be reviewed by at least three members of the AAA committee. If the appeal is denied, one semester must elapse before students suspended for the first time may apply for readmission; one year if the student has been previously suspended. A third suspension will constitute academic dismissal. Requests for readmission from students who left TLU on academic probation or who were suspended are also considered by the AAA Committee.

Access to Student Records and FERPA Notification: Texas Lutheran University complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy act of 1974 (Buckley Amendment). This Act is designed to protect the privacy of students' educational records and to establish students' rights to review and inspect records. Under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) students are afforded certain rights when it comes to their educational records which are outlined below.

Disclosure of Personally Identifiable Information

Students' education records are not accessible to parents or guardians without the student's written consent, unless they provide a certified copy of the most recent federal income tax return that shows the student is a dependent. However, if the University believes it is in the student's best interest, information from education records may be released to a parent or guardian in cases such as:

- When a student's health is in jeopardy
- When a student engages in alcohol or drug-related behavior that violates university policies
- When a student has voluntarily withdrawn from the University or has been required by the University to withdraw
- When a student has been placed on disciplinary probation or restriction
- When a student engages in behavior calling into question the appropriateness of the student's continued enrollment in the University

Students have the right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained within their education records, except where FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. Information may be released:

- To the student
- To the parents of a dependent student
- To a University official
- To a party seeking directory information
- To a party receiving the information pursuant to a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena
- Regarding student disciplinary proceedings as expressly permitted by FERPA
- To parties otherwise authorized to receive the information pursuant to FERPA

If a student would like information to be released to a third party, please file a "Student Information Release Authorization" form with the Registration and Records office.

Access to Education Records

If students would like to inspect and review their education records, they need to make the request in writing to the Registration and Records office, identifying which records they would like to review.

Amendment of Education Records

If a student believes their education records are inaccurate or misleading, they may make a request in writing to the Registration and Records office to have the record amended, identifying which records they wish to have amended and providing supporting documentation as to why they desire this amendment.

Filing a Complaint

If you feel the University has failed to comply with FERPA requirements, you have the right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education's office that administers FERPA at:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202-5901

Directory Information/Privacy Blocks

As an enrolled student, one's directory information (name, address, phone number, email address, photographs, electronic images, date and place of birth, major fields of study, current enrollment status, participation in officially recognized activities, dates of attendance, degrees, awards, and academic honors received, Provost/Dean's list selection, previous institutions attended, program and promotion materials on participants in various sports and similar public activities (including weights and heights of athletic team members) may be released. If a student would rather not have their information released as directory information, they can complete a nondisclosure form available in the Registration and Records office.

A few other notes:

- If students block directory information, it may still be inspected by those university officials authorized by law to inspect education records without consent.

- If students choose to block directory information, it can't be released to friends, family, prospective employers, the news media, advisors, student activities and honor societies
- Some reasons for considering the privacy block for directory information include harassment, or the advice of a legal or medical professional
- If students would like to keep public data private but release information so it can be published in commencement programs and honor lists, contact the Registration and Records office.

University Officials with Legitimate Educational Interests

Students' education records may be disclosed, without consent, to University officials with legitimate educational interests. These include people employed by the University in administrative, supervisory, academic, research or support staff roles; people contracted by the University for particular services; people serving on the Board of Regents; students serving on official committees or assisting other school officials in performing tasks, or volunteers or other non-employees with legitimate educational interests. A legitimate educational interest is present if the University official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill professional responsibilities.

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: The mission statement of Texas Lutheran University affirms the University's long-standing commitment to serve a diversified community. Included in this commitment are ongoing efforts to make the learning resources and physical facilities of the University accessible to students with disabilities. In accordance with the terms of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA), Texas Lutheran University provides reasonable accommodations for students with physical/medical, learning disabilities and or psychological disabilities. A request for reasonable accommodations should be initiated in the office of the TLU ADA coordinator located in the ASC Meadows Center.

A student who requests accommodations for a physical disability will be scheduled for a meeting with the ADA coordinator. It is expected that students living in the TLU residential community can live independently. Those students not able to live independently should apply for accommodations applicable to residential life with the ADA coordinator as well. All buildings on campus have access ramps and some have elevators. A limited number of parking spaces for students with disabilities are reserved throughout the campus.

It is the right and responsibility of the individual student to request accommodations and to provide professional documentation of the disability. Documentation requirements vary by disability and verification of disability forms are available in the ADA coordinator's office, ASC Meadows Center (ext. 8009).

Once the disability has been documented, and eligibility for accommodations has been determined, typical accommodations and the classes for which the student is requesting them are discussed between the ADA coordinator and the student. The typical accommodations are noted on a Determination of Reasonable Accommodations form. The student then meets individually with instructors to determine which accommodations are reasonable and appropriate for each specific class. The student is expected to maintain close contact with his/her academic advisor throughout the semester or summer school session to ensure that agreed-upon accommodations are effectively carried out.

Note: The student is responsible for initiating this procedure each semester or summer school session.

Students with disabilities who are enrolled or who plan to enroll at Texas Lutheran University are eligible for admission and for financial aid programs on the same basis as students without disabilities. Additional assistance may be available from the Texas Rehabilitation Commission, 1100 North Camp Street, Seguin, Texas 78155.

Appeals Procedure

Appeals regarding ADA accommodations should be made in writing and addressed to:

ADA Coordinator (830) 372-8009
Texas Lutheran University
1000 W. Court St.
Seguin, TX 78155

If the appeal involves the ADA coordinator, it should be filed with:

Vice President and Dean (830) 372-8060
of Student Life and Learning
Texas Lutheran University
1000 W. Court St.
Seguin, TX 78155

Within 5 business days after the receipt of the appeal, the ADA coordinator or the vice president and dean of student life and learning will meet with the student and with other University officials as appropriate to discuss possible resolutions. A response in writing will be given within 5 days.

If the response by the ADA coordinator or the vice president and dean of student life and learning does not satisfactorily resolve the issue, the student may appeal the decision within 5 business days to the Admissions, Advising and Academic Standards Committee (AAA).

The AAA Committee will review the appeal and may, at its discretion meet with the student. The committee will then provide a written recommendation to the executive vice president and provost for final action.

If the appeal is non-academic in nature and the ADA coordinator or vice president and dean of student life and learning does not satisfactorily resolve the issue, the student may appeal the decision within 5 business days to the executive vice president and provost for a final decision.

Addresses: All students are required to keep both an accurate permanent and local address on record with the registration and records office. The local address for students living off campus should be the address at which they reside and receive mail and may not be a University address. Students living on campus may use their campus mailbox as their local address. In all cases, students are not permitted to use the University address as their permanent address at any time. Upon graduation, transfer to another school, or withdrawal from the University, students must provide an accurate permanent address to the registration and records office as part of the checkout process. Correct addresses are critical to ensure that all billing, correspondence, and other pertinent information from the University are received in a timely manner. Students not returning the next semester should fill out a mail forwarding form in order to have mail reach them upon leaving TLU.

Alcohol: NO ONE under the age of 21 may possess or consume alcoholic beverages in accordance with the Texas State law and University policy.

- All residence halls, academic buildings, and athletic fields are alcohol free.
- The sale of alcoholic beverages on campus is prohibited, except by those with a valid liquor license and approval by the vice president and dean of student life and learning. For complete policy and instructions regarding alcohol for student organization events, please refer to the TLU Student Organizations Handbook.
- The alcohol policy applies to all organizations and university sponsored student activities on or off campus. Student organizations and their members that fail to follow the policy will be referred to the TLU disciplinary system.
- Any alcohol violation by students under 21 may result in the notification of the students' parents or guardian. A second alcohol violation will result in automatic notification. Parents may also be called when any student, regardless of age, endangers him/herself and/or others, is arrested for driving while intoxicated, or is responsible for property damage while under the influence of alcohol.

- For complete policies regarding alcohol as it pertains to residential facilities and living, please refer to the residence life section of this handbook under “residential living policies”.

Students who have been drinking and engage in disruptive behavior on campus or cannot care for themselves will be considered in violation of this policy and subject to disciplinary review.

Athletic and Performance-Related Absences: Students who must miss classes to officially represent the University in such sponsored activities as intercollegiate athletics, performance tours and events, and other University-sponsored activities will be excused under the following circumstances:

- A student’s absence from class does not excuse the student from any work missed during the absence. Students may not be penalized for such absences. The student and instructor will devise an appropriate substitute for missed work, classes, and examinations.
- The responsibility to make up work lies solely with the student who must discuss the missed assignments with the instructor as far in advance as possible.
- The names of students who will miss class to represent the University will be sent to their instructors by their sponsor or coach as far in advance as possible of the class to be missed. This list should include departure time or reporting time and estimated return time.
- Every attempt should be made to schedule travel so that it will have the least conflict with students’ class schedules. In addition, athletic contests, other than mandatory play-off games, and performance tours or events will not be scheduled during final exams.

Class Behavior: Students are expected to have high standards of behavior in the classroom, and rules of reasonable behavior should prevail. Classroom behavior should follow guidelines established by the individual professor. Students who engage in prohibited or unlawful acts that result in the disruption of a class may be directed by the faculty member to leave the class for the remainder of the class period. Longer suspensions from a class or dismissal on disciplinary grounds generally will be preceded by a disciplinary hearing, as set forth in Article IV in the TLU Student Code of Conduct.

Disruptive behavior will result in the student being dropped from the course with a grade of "W." The faculty member must have the department chair or associate provost sign (or approve) the “W” form and submit the form to the registration and records office. The student will be notified by the registration and records office that they have been dropped from the class and may no longer attend.

Communication with Students: Texas Lutheran University provides electronic mail and web portal access (my.tlu.edu) for students, faculty, staff and others affiliated with TLU. The University routinely uses email and my.tlu.edu for both formal and informal communication with students and they are expected to check their TLU accounts regularly for University communications.

Computing & Telecommunications: Misuse or abuse of the University’s telephone system or computing systems is prohibited. For detailed information about information technology policies, procedures, and regulations, read the “Policies” section of the TLU Intranet. Special attention is called to spamming, which is flooding the Internet with unsolicited messages. A student found committing this offense will have access denied for one month and will need to go to the computer center in the ASC to gain supervised access for necessary assignments. A second offense will result in more serious disciplinary action. All computers on the TLU network must have current anti-virus software. Any contaminated personal computer will be removed from the network until it is cleaned and verified by the information services staff.

Consensual Relationships: Texas Lutheran University is committed to the principle that a positive learning environment is fostered by professionalism, respect, and trust. Students must encounter a University community that is free from exploitation, harassment, or discrimination of any kind (affirmed by American Association of University Professors' Code of Professional Ethics). To this end, Texas Lutheran University deems unethical and inappropriate, amorous relationships, consensual or otherwise, between University employees and students. The University reserves the right to take disciplinary action, including termination, against any employee who engages in such a relationship.

Dishonesty: Any form of dishonesty is a violation of personal integrity and unworthy of an academic community. Such dishonesty includes cheating; lying; plagiarism; forgery; falsification of university records; supplying false information; unauthorized possession of University lists, records, or property; unauthorized entry into facilities; the misuse of student identification cards; misrepresentation of one's self. Violations of this policy will result in disciplinary action and may result in suspension or expulsion from the University.

Disruption: A student's right to petition and demonstrate will be respected; however, the University may regulate the time, place and manner of such demonstration. No individual or group may in any case disrupt the orderly functioning of the University.

Drugs: State and federal law is very explicit in regard to illegal drugs. Texas Lutheran upholds these laws and forbids the illegal use, sale, transportation, transfer or possession of drugs or any controlled substance listed in the current Texas Penal code, including but not limited to marijuana, narcotics, hallucinogens, non-prescribed amphetamines, barbiturates, rohypnol, GHB, ketamine, Ecstasy and other "club drugs". Additionally this policy applies to any other chemical substance, compound, or combination when used to induce an altered state; and/or any otherwise lawfully available product (such as over the counter or prescription drugs) used for any purpose other than its intended use. Any violation of these regulations will result in notification of the students' parent(s) or guardian(s) and may cause suspension or expulsion from the University. Drug paraphernalia or any item(s) which may facilitate drug use are prohibited.

Emergency Preparedness And Procedures: The TLU Safety and Emergency Management Committee is responsible for (1) identifying situations that might pose a threat to the physical safety of our students, employees and visitors, (2) developing and implementing plans to try to prevent or minimize the probability of those situations occurring, and (3) developing and implementing plans to respond to such situations as effectively as possible should they occur.

Anyone on campus who becomes aware of a situation that threatens or potentially threatens the safety of people or property on campus should immediately notify the TLU Switchboard (830-372-8000, or extension 0 from campus phones) and briefly describe the location and nature of the emergency situation.

In the event of an emergency situation that has affected or might affect the campus community, the university will make every effort to notify students, faculty, staff and visitors in a timely manner as to the nature of the emergency and recommended responses. Methods of notification will include:

- Text message via e2Campus emergency notification system (sign up at www.tlu.edu/e2campus)
- Emergency warning siren (tested every Saturday at noon unless threatening weather is in the area)
- TLU Web site
- TLU Messages (voice mail and/or email); and/or
- KWED 1580 AM radio station.

In addition, each building on campus has a designated emergency coordinator. Please follow the directions of the emergency coordinator for the building you are in during an emergency situation.

Recommended responses to several possible emergency situations (e.g., severe weather, fire) are included in a brochure entitled "What To Do In Case Of . . ." that should be posted in every office, residence hall room and apartment on campus. For a copy of this brochure or for additional information about TLU's emergency preparedness policies and procedures, contact Steve Anderson, senior vice president and chair of the Safety and Emergency Management Committee (sanderson@tlu.edu; phone ext. 8020).

Emotional Health and Welfare of Students: The mental and physical health of students can strongly affect their academic and social success at the University, as well as influencing other members of the University community. TLU staffs qualified medical and mental health professionals who provide short-term health services to students seeking assistance. For some students, pre-existing conditions or severe stress during college may create a situation where the student must be referred out to community resources, which can give long-term or in-patient care.

Enforced Withdrawal: The University reserves the right to require, at any time, the withdrawal of a student who does not maintain the required standards of scholarship, whose presence tends to lower the standard of conduct of students, or who cannot remain without danger to his/her own physical/mental health or the health of others. (See Student Code of Conduct, Article V for additional information.)

FERPA Policy: See Access to Student Records and FERPA Notification.

Financial Aid: Financial aid, including scholarships, grants and loans are awarded by the office of financial aid. Students wishing to receive need based scholarships, grants and loans must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) each year as soon after January 1st as possible. Some scholarships and grants also require that students maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average for the scholarship/grant to be renewed.

Accessing Your Financial Aid Award and Missing Information Letters

Students have access 24/7 via the my.tlu.edu portal to view their awards and both documents received and still missing. Students will receive an e-mail from the office of financial aid when their award letter is ready for review or when a revision has been made and may print the award letter from the portal at any time.

Financial Aid Disbursements and Refund Checks

The office of financial aid reviews every student's enrollment status and financial aid awarded before the aid is "disbursed" to the student. This review takes place on census date (12th class day) each semester. Refund checks for students whose aid is more than the charges posted on their student accounts are generally available the next day.

Disbursed: Posted to the student's student account.

Refund: The difference between the charges on the student's account and the aid disbursed when the aid is more than the charges.

Renewal of Financial Aid

To remain eligible for financial aid, students must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP). In general, this means that the student must maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average (CGPA) of 2.0 and must complete 75% of all course work for which enrolls. Students not making satisfactory academic progress will be placed on warning for one semester during which they must meet the minimum standards. If the minimum standards are not met at the end of the warning semester, students will lose eligibility for financial aid. A copy of the complete Satisfactory Academic Progress policy is located on TLU's financial aid web page under financial aid policies.

Some scholarships, as indicated below, require a higher minimum cumulative GPA for the student to be eligible for renewal.

TLU Scholarships and Grants:

A student may receive TLU scholarships and grants for a maximum of 8 semesters of enrollment. None are awarded for summer sessions.

Grant/Scholarship Name	Minimum CGPA required for Renewal
Pacesetter Award for College Excellence (PACE)	3.0
Presidential Scholarship	2.75
Academic Excellence Award	2.75
Commendation Award	2.5
Heritage Award	2.5
Janota Scholarship	3.0
Scholastic Achievement Award	2.5

State Awards

Award Name	Renewal Criteria
Tuition Equalization Grant (TEG)	Student must complete a minimum of 24 credit hours each academic year and maintain a 2.5 CGPA to be eligible for renewal.

Changes in Enrollment

- Dropping a Class: Financial aid eligibility is set as of 12th class each fall and spring semester. Students who drop classes before 12th class and who are less than full-time will have their aid eligibility recalculated. In general, dropping a class after 12th class day will not affect a student's financial aid eligibility for that semester as long as the student remains enrolled. However, dropping classes may affect academic progress and eligibility for renewal of financial aid for future semesters. See satisfactory academic progress policy for more information.
- Withdrawing from/Failing All Classes: Students who withdraw from all of their classes or who fail all of their classes in any given semester may owe a refund of their federal financial aid. Per federal regulations, students are not considered to have earned all of their financial aid until they have attended at least 60% of the semester. This generally coincides with the last date to drop a class without a grade.

Before withdrawing from classes, students should contact a financial aid counselor to discuss how withdrawing will affect their financial aid. A copy of the financial aid refund policy is located on TLU's financial aid web page under financial aid policies.

Student Employment and Applying for a Job

Part-time on-campus jobs are available to students who are in good academic standing. Some off-campus jobs are available to students awarded Federal Work-Study (see office of financial aid for more information). Preference is given to students with financial need, but particular job skills and departmental referral occasionally take precedence. Normally students work six to ten hours per week. Students are paid biweekly at minimum wage rates unless otherwise specified by the employer.

Campus employment opportunities will be posted on the my.tlu.edu portal.

Financial Obligations: Students must meet all of their financial obligations to the University in accordance with the payment deadlines established by the business office. Students who issue a check without sufficient funds to cover it may risk losing check writing privileges on campus both for personal use and payment of charges.

Fireworks and Hazardous Substances: Possession and/or use of fireworks (including sparklers), or explosives of any kind is prohibited on campus.

Flammable liquids and solvents (gasoline, kerosene, lighter fluid, propane, etc.) and other hazardous chemicals are prohibited on campus (except by authorized personnel such as maintenance).

Grievance Procedures: Most problems between students and faculty/staff can and should be resolved between the parties involved. Hence, a student should initially go directly to the faculty or staff member involved. If the concern/conflict cannot be resolved at this level, the student should see the department chair or, in the case of a conflict in a University sport, the athletic director or, in the case of a conflict with a staff member, the staff member's supervisor. If circumstances preclude discussing the concern/conflict with the department chair, athletic director, or supervisor, a student may send a written complaint to the office of the provost.

Harassment: The University will not tolerate any form of harassment relating to gender, race, sexual orientation, religion, age, color, national origin or physical ability. The term harassment includes, but is not limited to, slurs, jokes, or unwelcome verbal, written, graphic, electronic or physical conduct. Broadly, the term harassment may include any and all conduct that is unwanted and interpreted as malicious in nature. Violations of this policy will result in disciplinary action. Violations may result in suspension or expulsion.

Hazing: Hazing on the part of students, faculty, or staff is strictly prohibited both on and off campus. Violations of this policy will lead to disciplinary action. Hazing with or without the consent of a student is prohibited by TLU, and a violation of prohibition renders both the person inflicting the hazing and the person submitting to the hazing subject to discipline. Hazing is also prohibited by state law in educational institutions and can lead to legal action. The hazing bill is found in the Texas Education Code, Chapter 37, sections 37.151 through 37.157 and Chapter 51, section 51.936. The hazing bill may be viewed in its entirety at the "Texas Legislature Online" website at:
<http://www.statutes.legis.state.tx.us/?link=ED>.

- any activity considered morally offensive by an individual participating;
- and any other activity which is not consistent with University policy.

Offense

Individuals:

A person commits an offense if the person

- Engages in hazing;
- Solicits, encourages, directs, aids, or attempts to aid another in engaging in hazing;
- Intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly permits hazing to occur;
- Has firsthand knowledge of the planning of a specific hazing incident involving a student in an educational institution, or firsthand knowledge that a specific hazing incident has occurred, and knowingly fails to report in writing to the dean of students or the director of student activities what one knows.

Organizations:

An organization commits an offense if the organization condones or encourages hazing or if an officer or any combination of members, pledges, or alumni of the organization commits or assists in the commission of hazing.

Consent

It is not a defense for the person engaging in hazing to maintain that the person against whom the hazing was directed consented to or acquiesced in the hazing activity.

Complicity

No instructor, officer, director, advisor or other person may knowingly permit, encourage, or assist any student in hazing or willfully acquiesce in the commission of such an offense or fail to report promptly what is known to university officials. Hazing is any act of omission or commission of this type.

Violation

Students found to be involved in hazing may be immediately suspended or expelled from the University. Student organizations found to be involved may be suspended and/or have their organizational charter revoked and lose institutional affiliation.

Immunity

In an effort to encourage reporting of hazing incidents, the law grants immunity from civil or criminal liability to any person who reports a specific hazing event in good faith and without malice to the vice president and dean of student life and learning or other appropriate official of the institution and immunizes that person for participation in any judicial proceeding resulting from that report. Additionally, a doctor or other medical practitioner who treats a student who may have been subjected to hazing may make a good faith report of the suspected hazing activities to police or other law enforcement officials and is immune from civil or other liability that might otherwise be imposed or incurred as a result of the report. The penalty for failure to report is a fine of up to $1,000, up to 180 days in jail, or both. Penalties for other hazing offenses vary according to the severity of the injury which results and includes fines from $500 to $10,000 and/or confinement for up to two years.

Reporting

If you think that you may have been hazed or if you have questions about hazing, please contact the director of student activities (x6040), the vice president and dean of student life and learning (x8060), and/or University police (x0).

Jackson Park and the Student Activity Center Usage:

- Purpose: Jackson Park and the Student Activity Center are intended for events such as parties, receptions and other recreational or social meetings for groups as large as three hundred fifty (350) persons. Jackson Park is available with or without the indoor Student Activity Center. These events may involve TLU student groups and TLU departments.
- Scheduling: Scheduling will be through the director of student activities. Event arrangements and requirements will be coordinated when the reservation is accomplished. Scheduling for on-campus events will be on a first come-first-served basis.
- Reservations Policy: The University will accept reservations based on the following considerations: (1) Availability is determined by the academic calendar, University-events calendar, heating/AC availability, and the suitability of your event for the facilities and the University's mission. (2) The TLU organization/department must notify the director of student activities within ten calendar days of the event to be canceled. The University reserves the right to cancel this contract in the event of mechanical, electrical, food service, or technical problems, or when an event of higher priority must be scheduled, or when your event proves to be unsuitable for the facility. Every effort will be made to be sure an event is scheduled without complications. (3) A priority system is used flexibly in the acceptance of reservations: first, TLU student events, then, in descending order of priority, TLU sponsored events, University or church related conferences, standing meetings, personal events of University personnel or alumni, and lastly events for the surrounding community. (4) All student organizations and University departments have first priority with regard to reservation requests. After October 1st each year, reservation requests are open to the public. (5) Needs for special set up and equipment should be arranged at the time of the reservation with Ron Sozzi at extension 6003.

More information regarding Jackson Park and the Student Activity Center is available in the office of Student Activities.

Medical Leave: When a student experiences serious medical or psychological problems while enrolled as a student at Texas Lutheran, he or she may request to take a voluntary medical leave of absence. If approved by the vice president and dean of student life and learning (or provost in the vice president and dean of student life and learning's absence), the student will leave campus, be granted grades of "W" in all enrolled courses (even if the normal deadline for withdrawal without penalty has passed), and the student will be obligated to adhere to the readmission requirements outlined below if he or she desires to return to TLU after the problem has been treated and resolved.

Similarly, TLU may require a student to take a medical leave of absence if the student (a) poses a threat to the lives or safety of himself/herself or other members of the TLU community, (b) has a medical or psychological problem which cannot be properly treated in the university setting; or (c) has evidenced a medical condition or behavior that seriously interferes with the student's ability to function and/or seriously interferes with the educational pursuits of other members of the TLU community. The vice president and dean of student life and learning, or in their absence, the executive vice president and provost is the University official designated to make judgment about the need for a medical leave and to implement procedures for the student.

(Note: In making the decision to require a student to take a medical leave, the vice president and dean of student life and learning and/or the provost must act out of concern for the student and his or her rights, concern for the other students, and concern for the University as a whole. The vice president and dean of student life and learning and/or provost will have to consider whether the University is able to provide the level of care and guidance needed, whether there is a likelihood that the student will pose a threat to himself/herself or others, and/or to what extent the student seriously interferes with the rights of others in the community to carry on their educational pursuits.)

For both voluntary and required leaves, the policy on refunds contained in the catalogue will apply.

Readmission Requirements for Medical Leave

If a student must leave TLU for medical reasons, he or she must take sufficient time away to adequately address the issues that necessitated the leave. During this absence, the University expects the student to undergo professional healthcare treatment as the primary method of resolving the problem. Failure to seek ongoing treatment of a kind appropriate to the healthcare problems will raise serious doubt as to the student's readiness to resume student status. In such a case, the University may withhold admission until such time that appropriate treatment has been received.

A student on medical leave who wishes to return, must initiate a request for readmission by writing a letter to the vice president and dean of student life and learning detailing what has been accomplished during the absence. The student's letter must be accompanied by the Office of Counseling Services Readmittance Form to be completed by the appropriate healthcare personnel, and a signed release of information form for the appropriate TLU personnel and healthcare professionals to enable communication. The student's letter and supporting documentation are the bases upon which the dean makes the judgment that the health circumstances causing the student to leave have been adequately addressed and that there is a reasonable assurance that the student will be able to resume his/her studies.

The information gathered is reviewed by the appropriate healthcare professional at TLU and by the vice president and dean of student life and learning. The decision to readmit a student from a medical leave of absence is a provisional judgment which may be reversed if a student fails to be a responsible member of the TLU community. When a student is permitted to return, special conditions or requirements may be outlined at the time, and upon return, the student may be expected to meet periodically with the vice president and dean of student life and learning. Similarly, it is advisable for the student, during the first term back, to establish a professional relationship with a member of the TLU Counseling Services Office.

- Students Exhibiting Life-Threatening Behavior: Texas Lutheran University attempts to assist students in resolving typical young adult developmental issues, as well as stresses brought on by the college experience. Among other offices, TLU maintains the Counseling Center to provide counseling or serve as a referral source for students who are suicidal. It is the policy of the University to regard all threatened/attempted suicides as serious regardless of the specific degree of lethality involved in the attempt.

If a student threatens/attempts suicide or exhibits life-threatening behavior, the University's first priority is to attempt to ensure the student's safety and well being. If it is known that a student is threatening/attempting suicide, the TLU police department will be notified and they will transport the student to the hospital. In many cases, the student will need to be removed to a more appropriate setting. The vice president and dean of student life and learning as well as the campus counselor will be notified and the family will be contacted.

When a student threatens/attempts suicide, other people in the University feel the effect and the University has an interest in protecting them from the emotional stress and crisis atmosphere that accompanies attempted suicide. This could apply to fellow residents in the University housing, instructors and fellow students in class, teammates and others who have significant contact with the student or who may feel threatened or extremely anxious as a result of a suicide or suicide attempt.

The University regards a suicide attempt or threat as an indicator that the student may be so taxed beyond his or her psychological means that she or he is not stable enough to continue at the University at that time. TLU will use the Medical Leave Policy to withdraw a student who has attempted suicide or exhibits life-threatening behavior unless there is compelling evidence that the student is no longer at risk to himself or herself or to others, and that continuation at the University is in the student's best interest.

Missing Persons: The purpose of this policy is to establish procedures for the Texas Lutheran University's response to reports of missing students, as required by the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008.

This policy applies to students who reside in campus housing, including off-campus apartment units leased by Texas Lutheran University for student residents.

For the purpose of this policy, a student may be considered to be a "missing person" if the person's absence is contrary to his/her usual pattern of behavior and unusual circumstance may have caused the absence. Such circumstances could include, but not be limited to, a report of suspicion that the missing person may be the victim of foul play, has expressed suicidal thoughts, is drug dependent, is in a life-threatening situation, or has been with persons who may endanger the student's welfare.

I. Procedures for designation of emergency contact information

A. Students age 18 and above and emancipated minors

Students will be given the opportunity during each semester registration process at Texas Lutheran University to designate an individual or individuals to be contacted by Texas Lutheran University no more than 24 hours after the time that the student is determined to be missing in accordance with the procedures set forth below. A designation will remain in effect until changed or revoked by the student.

B. Students under the age of 18

In the event a student who is not emancipated is determined to be missing pursuant to the procedures set forth below, Texas Lutheran University is required to notify a custodial parent or guardian no more than 24 hours after the student is determined to be missing in accordance with the procedures set forth below.

II. Official notification procedure for missing persons

- A. Any individual on campus who has information that a residential student may be a missing person must notify Texas Lutheran University police department at x8000 as soon as possible. The Texas Lutheran University police department at the time of the report will immediately notify the office of the vice president and dean of student life and learning, and provide the same office with the name and student I.D. number of the missing student. Both the Texas Lutheran University police department and the office of the vice president and dean of student life and learning will work as a team in all missing person cases involving students and staff of Texas Lutheran University.

Note: In order to avoid jurisdictional conflicts when an off campus and/or commuter student is believed to be missing, the reporting person should immediately notify local law enforcement authorities. Texas Lutheran University police department will assist local law enforcement with the investigations as requested.

- B. Texas Lutheran University police department will gather all essential information about the residential student from the reporting person and from the student' acquaintances (description, clothes last worn, where student might be, who the student might be with, vehicle description, information about physical and emotional well being of the student, an up to date photograph, class schedule, etc.) Appropriate campus staff will be notified to aid in the search for the student.
- C. If the above actions are unsuccessful in locating the student or it is apparent immediately that the student is a missing person (e.g., witnessed abduction), Texas Lutheran University police department enter the person as a missing person in TCIC and NCIC. The Texas Lutheran University police department will coordinate with the Seguin police department or Guadalupe County sheriff's department in an effort to locate the student and conduct a joint investigation with said agencies.
- D. No later than 24 hours after determining that a residential student is missing, the vice president and dean of student life and learning will notify the emergency contact (for students 18 and over) or the parent/guardian (for students under the age of 18) that the student is believed to be missing.

III Campus communications about missing students

- A. In cases involving missing persons, law enforcement personnel are best situated to provide information to the media that is designed to elicit public assistance in the search for a missing person. Therefore, all communication regarding missing students will be handled by Texas Lutheran University police department with the assistance of the office of university relations and the vice president and dean of student life and learning. All inquiries to Texas Lutheran University regarding a missing student shall be referred to Texas Lutheran University chief of police or his designee.

Prior to providing the community with any information about a missing student, Texas Lutheran University officials shall consult with the Texas Lutheran University police department to ensure that communications do not hinder the current investigation.

Official Directives: If asked to report to a University official, a student is expected to respond immediately. When asked, students are expected to identify themselves through the presentation of their TLU ID card, to leave a crowd, or to respond to any reasonable directive of university personnel acting in an official capacity. University personnel are all regular employees of TLU including student staff members such as resident assistants.

Parking and Streets: Students are to follow all parking and street regulations as outlined in the parking brochure issued by the TLU police department and to follow all directives of the University police officers. Tickets will be issued and fines assessed as appropriate, especially for parking in restricted areas or specially designated parking spaces (i.e. handicap, University Owned, or area coordinator spaces). Individuals who accrue five tickets are charged automatically with breaking the code of conduct. Students who are charged with a code of conduct complaint enter the TLU judicial process and the incident is viewed as a disciplinary violation. The University reserves the right to revoke parking privileges and to enforce towing policies for violations of the parking policy.

Personal Behavior: Disciplinary action is taken for personal conduct which is considered (a) indecent, lewd, or obscene, (b) dangerous to the physical or mental well-being of themselves or others, (c) destructive to property, (d) malicious, mischievous, or disruptive in nature, (e) lacking in respect for the rights and dignity of others, (f) in violation of civil law, and/or (g) in violation of all other policies stated within this handbook, particularly policies regarding academic honesty, alcohol, hazing, and residential living.

Individuals who are present in their own or any other residence hall room or area where university policies are being violated are subject to the same disciplinary action as the host of that room and/or the sponsor of the event.

Sexual Assault: Texas Lutheran offers informational programs on the issue of sexual assault (including rape or acquaintance rape) through its residence life, University police, student life and learning, and center for women's studies programs. All students should alert themselves to the dangers, preventative measures, and responses needed to sexual assault.

Definitions

Broadly defined, sexual offenses include any sexual act directed against another person, forcibly and/or without that person's consent; or where the victim is incapable of giving consent.

Consent

The burden of obtaining consent is on the party seeking to initiate a sexual encounter. Affirmative consent is required, either verbally, or by voluntary acts unmistakable in their meaning. This definition also covers incidents in which a victim was incapable of giving legal consent, which is not the same as factual consent as people may be able to give factual consent as a result of the use of alcohol, drugs or rape drugs, but not be legally capable of so doing.

PROCEDURES TO FOLLOW IF A SEXUAL ASSAULT OCCURS

The director of counseling center is the initial contact person for the TLU Campus.

- Self Care and Safety: After an assault, the survivor may be in a state of shock. Although the first reaction will be to bathe or shower, DO NOT. Instead, the survivor is advised to wrap in something warm, such as a blanket or coat. Staying warm, instead of cleaning up right away, will accomplish two important things:
 - 1) It will help in recovering from the shock.
 - 2) It is less likely that the evidence will be disturbed or destroyed if the survivor decides to prosecute.

- It is extremely important that survivors. . .

DO

- *get to a safe place
- *call the police for help
- *lock doors and windows
- *keep warm
- *get medical attention
- *write down all they can remember
- *take a change of clothing with them to the hospital or sexual assault center. If they must change their clothes, put them in a paper bag to give to the police (plastic destroys evidence).

DO NOT

- *shower or bathe
- *brush or comb hair
- *douche
- *urinate (if possible)
- *change clothes
- *eat or drink anything
- *brush or rinse teeth or smoke
- *touch things at the crime scene

- Call someone: Survivors are advised to call someone for support immediately. Survivors react to sexual assault in different ways; some are upset, some are angry and some are very calm and controlled. Whatever the reaction, one may make better decisions by talking to a trusted friend or relative, or someone who is professionally trained to deal with sexual assault. In addition, this person can serve as a vital source of emotional support.
- Seek Medical Attention: It is very important that the survivor seek medical attention as soon as possible after a sexual assault. A medical exam is important for two reasons: (1) it ensures that the survivor receives the appropriate medical treatment, and (2) it is essential in the collection of physical evidence if the survivor decides to prosecute.
- Call Seguin police, 911 or University police: The Texas Lutheran University police department (TLUPD) is a full service legislated police agency that serves students, faculty, staff, and visitors within its jurisdiction. Students are encouraged to report any sexual assault, including acquaintance rape, to the University police and/or Seguin police, taking care to preserve all relevant evidence. The safety and well-being of sexual offense survivors is the primary concern of the police. Normally, the police will conduct a criminal investigation, and report the findings of that investigation to the State's Attorney. University police officials can also assist sexual assault survivors in notifying other law enforcement authorities, as appropriate

LEGAL PROCEDURES AND RESOURCES

- The student life and learning division is responsible for student discipline on campus. A sexual assault survivor or the campus police may file a complaint with the office of the vice president and dean of student life and learning if the accused is a student and judicial proceedings will be initiated as described in this handbook. The proceedings are designed to sensitively protect the rights of both the accused and the accuser. If the University's disciplinary proceedings find the accused to be guilty, penalties up to and including expulsion from school may be assessed. The University will also assist the victim, if requested, in notifying other civil and law enforcement officials. Other personal assistance is available through the University's counselor, the campus pastor, as well as through individual faculty and staff members. Referrals to supportive services off campus are also available. Assistance in restructuring classes or living arrangements as a consequence of the incident is available through the director of registration and records and residence life respectively.
- When a survivor contacts the University police and/or the office of the vice president and dean of student life and learning, these offices have the responsibility to actively investigate the incident. However, if a sexual assault is discussed with a counselor or medical professional, this information will be kept confidential, as provided by law.

Sexual Harassment: In accordance with our stated mission to be a community of learning and a community of faith, any behavior which denies another person his or her human dignity is unacceptable. Such behavior limits a person's participation in the community, thereby limiting that person's intellectual and spiritual growth. "Sexual harassment is a form of sexual discrimination and is prohibited by federal laws. Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 are the federal statutes under which the majority of sexual harassment complaints are brought against higher education institutions and their employees. The Civil Rights Act of 1991 provides additional rights and remedies to sexual harassment complainants" (Sexual Harassment in Higher Education). Sexual harassment is not acceptable and will not be tolerated in the Texas Lutheran community.

Definition

Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, verbal or written remarks or physical, graphic, and/or electronic conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when:

- submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or academic advancement, or of participation in university activities; or
- submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment decisions, academic decisions or evaluations affecting such individual; or
- such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, offensive, or debilitating working, living, or academic environment. At Texas Lutheran University, this environment is influenced by all members of the University community--faculty, administrative staff, hourly employees and students.

Examples

Conduct that may constitute sexual harassment includes any speech or behavior of a sexual nature that is unwanted and unwelcome. Examples include, but are not limited to:

- Unwelcome physical touching, such as patting, hugging, brushing against a person's body, fondling, grabbing, or assault;
- Direct or implied threats that submission to sexual advances may favorably affect employment, work status, promotion, grades, letters of recommendation; or that rejection of sexual advances may negatively affect any of these;
- Proposals of sexual activity;
- Sexual comments or jokes, remarks or questions about sexual activity or experiences or unwelcome remarks about a person's body or clothes;
- Sexual gestures, leering, staring or other suggestive facial expressions that are humiliating, embarrassing or discomfiting; or
 - Generalized sexist remarks and/or behavior, including those pertaining to sexual orientation.

Pre-Grievance Procedures

Pre-grievance procedures are designed to facilitate the effort to address perceived sexually harassing behavior without filing a formal or legal complaint. These optional pre-grievance procedures are outlined here in order to inform the community both of the resources available to it and to empower the individual to take action in a difficult situation. All members of the Texas Lutheran community are expected to act responsibly and to respect the confidence of all involved in any of the pre-grievance procedures.

Anyone involved in a pre-grievance procedure should maintain a personal record of all communication and its results. All such personal records should include dates, place(s), nature of the original and any ensuing behavior, and the names of any witnesses.

If a member of the University community believes she or he has been sexually harassed, that person should follow one or more of the following procedures before initiating a more formal complaint (The order of the following procedural suggestions does not necessarily represent a recommended order of action.).

Direct verbal communication

If a student believes that s/he is being sexually harassed, s/he should inform the perceived harasser immediately that his/her behavior or language makes the student uncomfortable. Request that it stop. Such non-confrontational education can usually solve the problem faster than any other method.

Direct written communication

Write a short, informative note to the harasser detailing the perceived inappropriate behavior and asking that it stop. The student may wish to include a copy of the Texas Lutheran University Sexual Harassment Policy Statement and/or other informative literature on the nature of sexual harassment. Be sure to retain a copy of the note for one's personal files.

Confidential Mediation

In some cases, the director of human resources may arrange for confidential mediation between the student and the perceived harasser.

Grievance Procedures

Grounds for filing a formal complaint: if the perceived problem cannot be solved through pre-grievance procedures, a formal complaint may be filed in the office of the vice president and dean of student life and learning if the complaint is against another student. If the complaint is against a faculty or a staff member, a written complaint setting forth all matters complained of should be filed with the director of human resources.

Investigation

The director of human resources, or designee, will promptly and diligently investigate all reported allegations of sexual harassment. In determining whether the alleged conduct occurred and, if it did, whether it constitutes sexual harassment in violation of this policy, the director of human resources will look at the totality of the circumstances. A determination regarding the violation of this policy will be made from the facts of a particular situation on a case-by-case basis. The director of human resources may enlist the assistance of outside resources in conducting the investigation and in making the determination.

Corrective Action

Upon a determination that the reported conduct occurred and that it constituted sexual harassment under this policy, Texas Lutheran University will take appropriate corrective action(s) against the offending person such as oral or written warning, referral to counseling, probation with a warning of suspension or termination for continuing or recurring offenses.

Confidentiality

Every practical attempt will be made to keep all information obtained in connection with a report or investigation of alleged sexual harassment confidential, provided that, however, the director of human resources may disclose information to those individuals inside and outside Texas Lutheran University whom s/he reasonably believes have a need to know the information in connection with the investigation, correction, or prevention of sexual harassment in the workplace.

Retaliation

No individual shall be permitted to retaliate in any way against an individual who files a complaint or participates in an investigation under this policy. Retaliatory action, including by way of example and without limitation, demotion, discharge, unfavorable academic decisions, unwarranted reprimands, deprivation of normal workplace benefits, false accusations, or intimidating comments is a serious violation of this sexual harassment policy and should be reported immediately to the person or office with whom the original complaint was filed. Any person found to have engaged in retaliatory conduct against another individual for reporting sexual harassment or for participating in any investigation of such will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action of the same types as provided for sexual harassment offenders.

False Accusations

If an investigation results in a finding that the complainant falsely accused another of sexual harassment knowingly or in a malicious manner, the complainant will be subject to the same disciplinary action provided for sexual harassment offenders.

Interpretation

It is the third definition of sexual harassment where the most latitude for interpretation exists. What constitutes "hostile" or "intimidating" behavior for one person in one situation does not for another. What is a joke for one person is very serious for another and may be perceived as highly injurious. "A reasonable woman and a reasonable man are likely to differ in their judgment of what is offensive." (Stephanie Riger, ctd. In "Sexual Harassment: Research and Resources," 1991, 5.)

Recognizing and confronting sexual harassment may be difficult for a variety of reasons. Sexual harassment is not simply a question of sexual desire; it is an abuse of power and trust. Some types of sexual harassment may even conform to role expectations and thus appear to be condoned by cultural guidelines or norms. Victims of sexual harassment frequently do not come forward with their complaints because 1) they believe any formal complaint would result in little or no action; 2) they believe they will be blamed and often even blame themselves for inciting the offensive behavior; 3) they are concerned about the harasser's reputation. In addition, many fear the loss of privacy and/or retaliation. Although there is no typical harasser, a typical response to an accusation of sexual harassment may be to denounce or defame the accuser. This may be a natural response if the harasser fails to recognize his or her actions as harassment, but its intimidating posture makes confronting the issue difficult.

Stalking: Definition of Stalking: A person commits stalking when engaging in single or repeated acts toward another individual, including following the individual when such following is unwelcome and under circumstances which demonstrate an intent to place the individual in fear of bodily injury or intent to cause emotional distress. The University considers stalking a form of harassment; therefore, all disciplinary sanctions listed under harassment shall apply to stalking.

Theft: Individuals found to have attempted or completed theft of property or who are in unauthorized possession will be subject to disciplinary and possibly criminal charges.

TLU ID Card: This card should be in your possession at all times, and presented to University officials upon request. For safety and security reasons, it is prohibited to loan one's student ID card to anyone else. All lost or stolen cards should be reported to residence life within 24 hours. ID cards will be confiscated if found in use by another person either to gain entry to the dining or residence hall(s). A charge will be assessed for all lost, stolen or damaged ID cards. Until the lost card is replaced, the student must pay cash for meal service in the dining hall or snack bar.

University Resources: It is illegal to possess or make copies of university keys for an unauthorized purpose. Unauthorized entry into or use of TLU buildings, facilities, equipment or resources is also prohibited. Violation of this policy will result in disciplinary action and possibly criminal charges.

Weapons: Possession or use of weapons or ammunition is not permitted on campus. This includes but is not limited to: firearms, rifles, stun guns, BB guns, paint ball guns, bow and arrows, switch blades, knives (except a common pocket knife with a blade less than 3.5 inches in length), nun chucks, martial arts or medieval weapons, and sling shots. However any object used as a weapon will be considered a weapon. Unless the above conditions are met or the TLU Board of Regents grants prior written authorization, firearms on campus are in violation of Section 46.03 of the Texas Penal Code and violations may result in prosecution.

Any object which could potentially inflict injury or cause harm when used in a threatening, careless, or aggressive manner and shoots a projectile will be considered a weapon. Possession of weapons of any type, including but not limited to firearms, ammunition, air guns, bb guns, paint ball guns, gun replicas, bows, incendiary and/or explosive devices, slingshots, knives, razors, swords, and martial arts or medieval weapons, are prohibited. Possession and/or use of fireworks, including sparklers, is prohibited.

Possession and/or use will result in immediate confiscation of the item(s) and disciplinary action.

V. RESIDENCE LIFE

On-campus living should be an enjoyable and rewarding experience with opportunities for self development. To encourage that process, students are expected to follow all residential living regulations and to be considerate of others and of University property at all times. The residential experience requires an increasing level of physical, psychological, and emotional independence on the part of students. It is the University's expectation that all residential students will be capable of living independently and unassisted within the residential facilities. The University retains the prerogative to decline housing for students who are unable to meet the University's housing expectations.

Texas Lutheran University policy supports retention research which demonstrates that students who reside on campus are better able to form an important linkage with peers and faculty in the social and academic areas. Further, there is some evidence that residential students achieve higher grades than their non-residential counterparts. Students who become involved as members of the college community will be more likely to invest greater effort in learning. In support of the educational mission of TLU, all regularly admitted full-time students on the Seguin campus are required to live in University housing unless they meet at least one of the following criteria: (1) 21 years of age or older as of the first day of fall semester classes, (2) married, (3) attainment of no fewer than 90 semester hours as of the first day of fall semester classes, or (4) commuting within a 30-mile radius from their parents' or legal guardian's permanent primary residence. All students/applicants under the age of 18 will be on a case by case basis. Full-time students who begin the academic year in residence on-campus commit themselves to a full academic year of residence in University housing except for marriage, graduation, or withdrawal from the University. The University reserves the right to request students who drop to part-time status to live off campus. Requests for exceptions are to be directed to the residence life office. Students found in violation of the housing policy will be placed on disciplinary probation and still be charged for on-campus housing.

In order to comply with a new state law, TLU requires, as of 1/1/2010, that all new and transfer students living in on-campus housing be immunized with meningococcal conjugate vaccine (MCV4).

Written proof of vaccination, given at least 10 days before moving on to campus, must be sent to the Office of Residence Life or faxed to 830-372-8136. Without this verification, a student will not be allowed to move on campus. For further information please see the TLU Health Services website.

Residence life at Texas Lutheran University promotes students' individual and academic development within an inclusive residential community of faith and active learning. It is the sincere wish of the residence life staff that disciplinary actions will not be necessary and that every resident will make a sincere effort to abide by the standards set for the residential community. Violations of policy are considered a breach of the community standards, and violators are expected to give something back to the community as an act of good faith. Guidelines concerning the handling of violations have been approved by the TLU administration. These guidelines are an attempt to inform students of the consequences of their actions and to achieve consistency in the enforcement of rules, but the University reserves the right to apply other sanctions due to individual circumstances or special cases. Whenever fines for sanctions are assessed, the student has the option to perform community service in lieu of the fine under specific guidelines explained during sanctioning.

GENERAL HOUSING INFORMATION

Apartment Housing: The apartments at TLU provide a more independent living environment for students and require a mature and responsible resident. Students are expected to take an active role in the apartment's care and upkeep. Residents who fail to uphold housing regulations as published in the student handbook and housing materials will be processed under the disciplinary guidelines detailed in the student handbook.

Area Coordinator (AC): A professional staff member with responsibilities for a designated housing area. The AC lives in the designated area. The AC supervises the resident assistant staff for the designated area and assumes responsibilities for programming, facility oversight, and student conduct issues.

Break Periods: All University housing is officially closed during the Christmas break period.

Residents are encouraged to return home during other break periods. While University police are available during break periods, all departments, including residence life, operate with a minimal staff. Meals, maintenance, housing, and other issues will not be addressed during these periods.

Bulletin Boards: Bulletin boards provide residents information on issues, activities, events, services, policies, and general information. All decorations, flyers, brochures, and information must be approved by residence life prior to posting. Flyers, bulletins, brochures, and other materials may not be posted on walls, columns, furnishings, or windows of any housing areas. There are bulletin boards designated in each hall for flyers. The bulletin board is marked at the top with the word "information". Use staples or a push pin when posting on the bulletin board. Postings using any other adhesive may be removed and the person(s) or group(s) sponsoring the posting(s) may be billed for any damages resulting from the use of the inappropriate adhesive. Damaging and/or destroying the materials approved and appropriately displayed on residential bulletin boards may be considered vandalism and sanctioned accordingly.

Cable Television: Each room/apartment and various lounges within the residence halls are connected to cable. Seguin Hall cable outlets are only in the suites. Any problems with cable service should be reported to ext. 6000. Private satellite dishes are not permitted. Splicing cable into rooms is not permitted.

Card Access: Residential students use their TLU student identification card to access the residential areas for which they have approved access. Use of another student's identification card and/or providing one's card for use by another individual to gain access to the TLU residential facilities is not permitted.

Check-In: At check-in, the student will be asked to thoroughly inspect the room/apartment and note any conditions or discrepancies on the Room Inventory Form (RIF). The student will be held responsible for any damage(s) or change(s) in the condition of the room/apartment not previously indicated on the RIF. Students who move in without completing the check-in and inventory process properly may be fined. Students will have 24 hours to return the completed RIF. Failure to turn in your RIF will result in a blank RIF with your name on it being used at the time you move out. A blank RIF indicates there was nothing wrong with your room at the time you moved into the room.

Check-In locations:

- Kraushaar Hall for all students living in Hahn, Knutson, and Kraushaar Halls
- Baldus Hall for all students living in Baldus, Clifton, and Trinity Halls
- Seguin Hall for all students living in Seguin Hall
- Kramer 6 for all students living in the apartments (Brandes, Kramer, Lange, Steger, Linne, Renger, Strunk, Bogisch and Glazener).

Check-Out: Once you have been approved to check-out of your room, you will have two options:

- Normal Check-Out – Any student may choose this option. You must schedule an appointment with your RA or another RA in your building 24 hours in advance of your departure. The RA will then go to your room with you and fill out the remaining portions of your Room Inventory Form that was completed upon your check-in. Your room must be clean to the standard it was at check-in, furniture arranged as it was at check-in, and all personal belongings removed. See signs in your area if you have forgotten the furniture arrangement in your room. After completion of the RIF form the RA will collect your key(s). The Area Coordinator will walk through your room/apartment once all students have left and determine any charges. The RA does not determine charges.
- Express Check-Out – Only sophomores, juniors, or seniors may choose this option. The last two weeks of the semester you have the option of doing an express check-out. You may go to the residence life office and pick up an express check-out. Fill out the appropriate parts of the check-out information, place your keys in the envelope, and turn them in. An Area Coordinator will later go through your room/apartment to estimate damage or cleaning charges and complete the remaining portions of the express check-out. By electing to this type of check-out you understand that you accept all damage and cleaning charges when signing your express check-out form.

With both an Express or Normal check-out, a detailed assessment of cleaning and damage charges will be made by our maintenance and custodial staff, which could result in the adjustment of estimated charges at the time of check-out.

Deliveries: Students who request deliveries to the residence halls must make arrangements to receive such deliveries in person in the lobby of the residence hall or at the switchboard. No deliveries may be made directly to individual rooms.

Disruption of Service: Texas Lutheran University will not be liable for disruptions to any services that are beyond the University's control and that are restored within a reasonable amount of time.

Energy Conservation: Conserving energy is both economically and ecologically wise. Utility and water costs are factors that affect room rates. Students are expected to turn off lights and other electrical items when not in use and to help conserve energy whenever possible.

Exterior Entrances and Doors: Exterior entrances and doors in the residence halls must remain locked unless authorized by the office of residence life. Locked doors must not be compromised in any manner, including propping doors open and/or placing a wedge between the door and frame. Compromising exterior door may result in disciplinary sanctions, including fines.

Housing Opening & Closing: Residence halls and apartments open for returning students at 1:00pm the day before registration at the beginning of each term. Early arrivals are typically not permitted, and requests for early arrivals must be approved by the director of residence life. Students are expected to vacate their assigned housing no later than 24 hours after the student's last final exam. Graduating seniors are expected to vacate their assigned housing no later than noon on the day following graduation.

Improper Check-In: If you arrive before, you may be assessed an improper check-in fee of $150 and the daily rate of your room charge up to the date of your appropriate move-in day. Please note that your room may not be available, clean, or have been maintenance-checked if you chose not to check-in according to the move-in period.

Improper Check-Out: If upon check-out a resident does not clean the room to specifications, leaves the room in disorder, fails to check-out in the appropriate timeframe (see Check-Out), or chooses to abandon the room, the student will be charged accordingly.

Incident Report: The incident report documents occurrences within the housing areas, including alleged violations of residential and/or University policies, procedures rules, and/or regulations. The incident report is completed by the residence life staff and submitted to the residence life office. The report documents the facts and observations of the occurrence. An incident report is completed and submitted to document relevant and pertinent information regarding an occurrence, and the submission of an incident report does not automatically mean a violation is alleged.

Kitchens: Food preparation in the residence halls is limited to snacks and occasional entertaining and should be confined to hall kitchens or lounge areas specifically equipped for such activity. Cooking is not permitted in residence hall rooms.

Laundry: Each residential area on campus has free laundry service. Front load LG washers provided are energy and water efficient. Any problems with the machines should be reported immediately to the resident assistant.

Maintenance: Contact the resident assistant in the area to request maintenance assistance. Repeated concerns should be directed to the area coordinator.

Meal Plan: Every student living in TLU's residence halls is required to select a meal plan. Apartment residents may choose to select a meal plan but are not required to do so. Meal plan choices may be changed up to and including the first official day of class. No changes may be made after that date. Residents may change meal plans during the designated time prior to the beginning of the next semester.

Occupancy Conditions: Occupancy periods of the residential facilities by the assigned students are governed by the academic calendar. Residence halls and apartments may be occupied only by the assigned students and their guests in accordance with the visitation policies. Assigned students cannot reassign or transfer occupancy to another person. Roommates assigned to an individual room, suite, or apartment must be of the same gender.

Any person living in University residential facilities without a valid contract or permission from residence life will be considered a trespasser. Trespassers may be subject to criminal charges of trespassing and/or loitering, and such individuals will be required to leave the residential facilities immediately.

Occupancy Terms: The terms of occupancy shall be for the fall and spring semester. If a student moves into campus housing after the beginning of a semester, the terms of occupancy shall be for the remaining portion of the academic year. Occupancy during session(s) other than the academic year requires a separate contract. Any student occupying a room or apartment without authorization from residence life after the contract period ends will be liable for late check-out fees until the premises are vacated. The fee for unauthorized late check-out is announced by residence life prior to the end of the contract period.

On Campus Housing Contract: To live on campus, a student must submit an on campus housing contract. This document sets forth the conditions and terms of occupancy and may not be assigned to another person in any way. The individual signing the contract is fully responsible for meeting the conditions and terms of occupancy which are set forth in the document.

Parking: All residents are required to display a current University parking permit and to park only in the lot(s) designated by their permit.

Personal Belongings: The University cannot assume responsibility for the personal belongings of students or for any damages to personal property. This refers to all areas on campus and to personal property taken off campus in connection with a University function. Personal items of value such as radios, stereos, computers, televisions, etc. should be properly insured. Personal property should be marked for identification. Serial numbers and other identification information for electronic equipment and other personal property should be recorded and filed for reference purposes. It is the responsibility of students to lock the door(s) and window(s) of their rooms/apartments. Vehicles should be locked, and books, bags, and other personal property should not be left clearly in view on the seats and floor of vehicles.

Personal property accidentally left behind in the residence after the closing of the hall may be reclaimed up to seven days after departure. After that point, all remaining items become property of TLU and will be disposed of at the discretion of the University.

Property Insurance: The resident assumes the risk of theft, loss, damage, or destruction of personal property which may occur in the housing area. It is strongly recommended that residents cover their personal property through a family or personal insurance policy.

Residence Hall Door Access: For the safety and security of residents, residence halls may only be accessed through the use of a proximity (ID) card reader. Residents should carry their student ID cards at all times in order to enter their residence hall. Residents should not allow unescorted guests or other unknown persons to piggyback on their entry. If residents observe others providing such improper access, the residents should report the situation to a residence life staff member immediately.

Resident Assistant (RA): An upperclass student paraprofessional who lives within his/her designated area. The RA provides assistance and referrals to residents, coordinates programming, and enforces residential and campus policies and regulations.

Residential Housing Association (RHA): RHA serves as the voice for residential students. Every student living on campus is a member of this student organization that provides leadership opportunities, seeks to improve on-campus living by gathering student opinions on important housing issues, and provides community programming. Each area selects designated representatives to serve as voting members. Interested students should contact their RA or AC to take advantage of this exciting opportunity.

Room Changes: Students may request to change rooms by visiting their Area Coordinator.

Changes may be requested starting the first day of classes each semester. All changes will be conducted on Fridays through the first month of each semester. Changes will be accommodated on a first come, first served basis and may not be available immediately. Please note that you must check in to your new room and check out of your old room within 48 hours. If this process is not completed in 48 hours duplicate room charges and improper check-out charges will occur.

This consolidation policy does not require an individual to move out of his/her room, but rather could require residents to pay for a single room or consolidate with another individual who is living singly in a double occupancy room. If more than one resident in the same building is without a roommate, the individual who turned in their housing contract last may be the one to move.

Room Consolidation: During the semester, if a resident moves out of a double room and the remaining resident is not assigned a roommate, the remaining resident may be asked to select one of the following options:

- Elect to pay the single room rate and retain the room privately. This option is available only when space is available. Single room rates will be calculated on a pro-rated basis. (This option is not available for freshman during their first semester living on campus.)
- Choose to move into another half-filled room in the building.
- Find another resident in a half-filled room who is willing to move into your room.
- Be prepared to accept a new roommate at any time. Students selecting this option also agree to the following stipulations:
 - The resident must keep the unoccupied half of the room in such condition that would allow someone to move into the room on short notice.
 - The resident agrees that the room may be shown to prospective occupants without prior notification and in his/her absence.
 - The resident will display an attitude of cooperation and acceptance toward any resident who may look at the room while considering occupancy.
 - The resident agrees to accept a roommate assigned by the director of residence life.

Room Decorations: Posters and decorations may be used as long as they do not present a fire or safety hazard and are considered in good taste. Alcohol containers are inappropriate in an educational environment, even if desired for decorative purposes, and are therefore prohibited. Certain items will typically cause damage to surfaces and furnishings within the residential facilities and are not permitted in the residence halls and apartments. No nails, screws, pins, tacks, tape, glue, putty, or any type of adhesive or mounting material not approved by residence life may be used to hang items to the walls or woodwork. Nothing should be taped or affixed to the ceiling tiles or braces, including "glow in the dark" decorations. Rooms may not be painted. Fines will be assessed for any violations of this policy. Christmas decorations must be taken down before the student leaves for Christmas break.

Room Entry: The University is sensitive to the privacy of students living in campus housing. However, the relationship of the University to the student is not defined as that of landlord to tenant. The University reserves the right for University personnel to enter rooms for the following purposes:

- Maintenance: to check for repairs, inspections, sanitation, furnishings, preventive maintenance, etc.
- Safety: to monitor for missing persons, illnesses, safety, violations of residential regulations and/or other rules and laws, etc..
- Welfare: to conduct any search whenever it is felt that the community's or individual's welfare is at issue.
- Inspections: to establish scheduled times to insure that residential facilities are being properly maintained.

Although not required, the University will normally attempt to notify the resident(s) when University personnel have entered or plan to enter their living quarters as a courtesy. A security check is made of all rooms and apartments at the beginning of each break period and periodically throughout the year. The resident(s) may or may not be present during the inspection. The director of residence life or his/her designated representative and at least one other staff member are required for entry. Staff members have the authority to enter the room/apartment even if the resident(s) is/are not home at the time of the inspection.

Room Search: The director of residence life will determine if probable cause exists to search a student's room or apartment. If probable cause is determined, the student will be informed of the basis for the search. If possible, the search will be conducted in the student's presence. However, the student's absence will not prohibit a search. A student living in University residential facilities is not immune from a legal search by law enforcement officers.

Sanitation: Students should maintain a clean and healthful environment and report to the resident assistant and/or area coordinator any situation requiring attention. Residents are responsible for cleaning their assigned rooms and, if applicable, connecting bath areas. All residents are expected to assume and share responsibility for keeping common areas neat and orderly. The University reserves the right to check rooms regularly to determine if unsanitary or unsafe conditions or unreported damage exist. If such conditions exist, residents will be expected to correct the condition immediately.

Although the residential areas are treated for pests by professional exterminators on a regular schedule, cleanliness is the best form of pest control and the elimination of possible breeding grounds. Empty cans, bottles, and other trash should be discarded immediately and in proper receptacles.

Sign-up: During the spring semester, housing sign-up guidelines will be available in the residence life office.

Single Rooms: The University endeavors to honor a student's request for a single room, but space is limited. First-time new students are generally not eligible for single rooms. If space is available, the student may contact the area coordinator to request a single room. Such assignments are made based on classification, behavioral record, and order of request. There is an additional charge for single rooms.

Storage: The University does not have storage areas for students.

Telephones: Upon request, TLU will provide complimentary local phone and voicemail services to a telephone jack located in each room. Students pay for their own long distance and must provide their own touch-tone telephone. Only 900 MHz or 5.8 GHz phones may be used. 2.4 GHz phones are not permitted in the residence halls because they interfere with the wireless Internet service and their use may result in sanctions. Contact the Information Technology Help Desk at 830-372-6000 or by e-mail at ishelp@tlu.edu to establish service.

Any misuse of the phone service or failure to pay monthly long distance phone bills may result in loss of service and/or disciplinary action. Both 900 and 976 prefixes are blocked from access to the campus. Trouble with telephone lines should be reported to the residence life staff. There are house phones on each floor that may be used for local, on campus, or long distance with a calling card.

Trash Disposal: Residents are responsible for removing trash from their rooms or apartments and placing it in the proper receptacles. Dumpsters are located outside all housing areas. It is not acceptable to place excessive trash in the common area trash containers in the residence halls.

Vending Machines: Vending machines are located near campus residences. Requests for refunds should be directed to the bookstore. Tampering with vending machines may lead to disciplinary action.

Withdrawals: A student who withdraws from the University must vacate his or her residence hall/apartment and check out within 24 hours of the withdrawal unless permission to stay longer is granted by the director of residence life. After the first day of class in any given semester, there will be no refund in housing charges.

RESIDENTIAL LIVING POLICIES

Alcohol: NO ONE under the age of 21 may possess or consume alcoholic beverages in accordance with Texas State law and University policy.

- All residence halls, academic buildings, and athletic fields are alcohol free. The display of alcoholic beverage containers/packaging such as cans, bottles, bottle caps, cartons, packaging labels, etc. are not permitted in the residence halls or TLU apartments where at least one occupant is under 21.
- Students older than 21 may possess and consume alcohol in the privacy of their apartments as long as all students residing in the apartment are 21 years or older. Any apartment where students who are under 21 reside is considered alcohol free. Alcohol must be for personal consumptions and containers should be disposed of in appropriate trash containers.
- The maximum number for a party within an apartment is twenty. The student host is responsible for all of their guests, including those who are under 21 years of age. Hosting a party involving the illegal use of alcohol or making alcohol available to minors is a violation of Texas State law and University policy. The student host will be held responsible for any and all violations of TLU policies by his/her guest(s).
- Beer kegs, party balls, wine boxes and similar party containers of any size are not permitted on campus.
- The sale of alcoholic beverages on campus is prohibited, except by those with a valid liquor license and approved by the vice president and dean of student life and learning.
- Students who have been drinking and draw attention to themselves through disruptive behavior or cannot care for themselves will be subject to a disciplinary review.
- Any alcohol violation by students under 21 may result in the notification of the students' parents or guardian. A second alcohol violation will result in automatic notification of the students' parents or guardian and will be to inform parents that subsequent violations may result in a student's suspension from the University. Parents may also be called when any student, regardless of age, endangers him/herself and/or others, is arrested for Driving While Intoxicated, or is responsible for property damage while under the influence of alcohol.

Balconies & Patios: Balconies and patios are to be kept neat and free from garbage, towels, clothes, University furniture or other items that may detract from the appearance of the campus. Failure to maintain balconies and patios in an appropriate manner will result in disciplinary action, including fines.

Barbecue grills: In compliance with state fire code regulations, barbecue grills are not allowed in or on apartment facilities (including balconies and patios). However, there are some built-in barbeque pits around campus for public use.

Bicycles: Students may use bicycles on the sidewalks, understanding that pedestrians have the right of way. High quality locks and chains are recommended since TLU is not responsible for stolen property. The University recommends registering bicycles with the University police department. Bicycle storage is available outside the residence halls. Bicycles may be kept in a student's room or apartment, and the student will be responsible for any damage resulting from such storage. Bicycles may not be stored in stairwells, hallways, lounges, or other common areas. A fine may be assessed and/or the bike confiscated if it is stored improperly or ridden inside.

Candles: The possession or burning of candles is strictly prohibited in residence halls and apartments, even during a loss of electrical power. If such items are found, the items will be confiscated and the violator will be fined.

Cleanliness: Students are expected to maintain a clean and orderly residence. Residents will be held financially responsible at check-out time for damages and the cost of cleaning. Residents who abuse residential facilities will face disciplinary sanctions. Residents are responsible for keeping the area outside of the residence free from trash including cigarette butts. Aluminum cans and glass bottles should not be stored outside unless placed in appropriate receptacles.

Students are responsible for cleaning their assigned room and, if applicable, connecting bath areas. The University's custodial staff provides standard cleaning services in common areas (hallways, stairwells, lounges, lobbies, and community bath areas). Students are expected to be considerate in the way common areas are used. Students who create an unusual or excessive cleaning demand in a common area will be responsible for the cleaning of the area. If the responsible person(s) cannot be identified, the cost for the excessive cleaning may be assessed to all residents of the wing/floor/hall.

Cohabitation: Cohabitation by members of either the same or opposite sex is not permitted in either the residence halls or apartments. A guest staying over an extended period of time and/or giving the impression that s/he is living with the host will be deemed a cohabitant. Cohabitation is defined as a guest staying longer than three consecutive nights and/or staying for three or fewer consecutive nights on two or more occasions during the same week. Failure to comply with this policy may result in sanctions and may jeopardize access to campus housing.

Common Areas: Lounges, study areas, recreation areas, bathrooms, laundry facilities, and hallways are for the use of all residents. All residents share responsibility for their upkeep and security. Furniture in public areas may not be moved to other locations, including residents' rooms. Likewise, furniture or other belongings not assigned to or intended for public areas may not be placed or stored in these locations. Routine cleaning is provided by custodial staff. Residents are expected to be considerate in the way common areas are used. Students who create an unusual or excessive cleaning demand in a common area will be responsible for the cleaning of the area.

It is the collective responsibility of residents to report individuals who cause excessive cleaning and/or damage to common area or property. Excessive cleaning or damage to common areas and/or property will be billed to the responsible student(s). In the event the excessive cleaning and/or damage cannot be attributed to a specific person or group, all floor, wing, and/or hall residents may be collectively billed and/or fined.

Community Bath Facilities: Using community bath facilities designated for the opposite sex is prohibited. Any person who uses a community bath designated for the opposite sex may be subject to disciplinary action. Residents are responsible for informing their guests regarding appropriate toilet facilities.

Contact Paper: The use of contact paper on furniture, shelves, walls, floors, ceilings, or other surfaces is prohibited. Charges will be assessed to the student(s) for its usage.

Damages: The residents of each room are responsible for keeping the room and its contents in good order and free from damage. The room includes the outside of the room door. Prior to residents moving in, a room inventory and condition report is completed. When residents move out, the room is checked again for possible damage which may have occurred during the residents' occupancy. Residents will be charged for any damages and/or excessive cleaning, including removing trash from the room or the common areas. A $25.00 administrative fee will be assessed in addition to the actual damage, cleaning charges, and/or lost key(s).

Dart Boards: Dart boards or any other object which may cause holes or other punctures in walls or other surfaces are prohibited in all residence halls and apartments.

Drugs and Paraphernalia: Illegal drugs are prohibited in all University residential facilities.

State and federal law is very explicit in regard to illegal drugs. Texas Lutheran upholds these laws and forbids the illegal use, sale, transportation, transfer or possession of drugs or any controlled substance listed in the current Texas Penal code, including but not limited to marijuana, narcotics, hallucinogens, non-prescribed amphetamines, barbiturates, rohypnol, GHB, ketamine, Ecstasy and other “club drugs”. Additionally this policy applies to any other chemical substance, compound, or combination when used to induce an altered state; and/or any otherwise lawfully available product (such as over the counter or prescription drugs) used for any purpose other than its intended use. Any violation of these regulations will result in notification of the students’ parent(s) or guardian(s) and may cause suspension or expulsion from the University. Drug paraphernalia or any item(s) which may facilitate drug use are prohibited.

Electrical Appliances: Electrical appliances must be U.L. (Underwriters Laboratories) approved and must not cause a disruption to the electrical circuits or disturb other residents. Students may not use toasters, toaster ovens, stoves, grills, electric frying pans, hot plates, or any appliance with open filaments in residence hall rooms. Students may use microwave ovens of 700 watts or less. Insurance regulations prohibit the use of halogen lamps and space heaters. If such items are found, the items will be confiscated and the violator will be fined. Students residing in the residence halls may bring a refrigerator that is 4.3 cubic feet or less. The use of surge protectors is recommended. The overloading of electrical circuits is a dangerous fire hazard and therefore not allowed. Electrical appliance and equipment must be used in accordance with the manufacturer’s instructions. The University reserves the right to deny use of any appliance and/or to confiscate any unapproved appliance.

Emergency Preparedness And Procedures: The TLU Safety and Emergency Management Committee is responsible for (1) identifying situations that might pose a threat to the physical safety of our students, employees and visitors, (2) developing and implementing plans to try to prevent or minimize the probability of those situations occurring, and (3) developing and implementing plans to respond to such situations as effectively as possible should they occur.

Anyone on campus who becomes aware of a situation that threatens or potentially threatens the safety of people or property on campus should immediately notify the TLU Switchboard (830-372-8000, or extension 0 from campus phones) and briefly describe the location and nature of the emergency situation.

In the event of an emergency situation that has affected or might affect the campus community, the university will make every effort to notify students, faculty, staff and visitors in a timely manner as to the nature of the emergency and recommended responses. Methods of notification will include:

- Text message via e2Campus emergency notification system (sign up at www.tlu.edu/e2campus)
- Emergency warning siren (tested every Saturday at noon unless threatening weather is in the area)
- TLU Web site
- TLU Messages (voice mail and/or email); and/or
- KWED 1580 AM radio station.

In addition, each building on campus has a designated emergency coordinator. Please follow the directions of the emergency coordinator for the building you are in during an emergency situation.

Recommended responses to several possible emergency situations (e.g., severe weather, fire) are included in a brochure entitled “What To Do In Case Of . . .” that should be posted in every office, residence hall room and apartment on campus. For a copy of this brochure or for additional information about TLU’s emergency preparedness policies and procedures, contact Steve Anderson, senior vice president and chair of the Safety and Emergency Management Committee (sanderson@tlu.edu; phone ext. 8020).

Escort Policy: All guests in the residence hall must be escorted by and be in the presence of their resident host at all times while in the residence hall rooms and common areas. This means guests must be in sight of and within a reasonable distance from the host escort at all times. Failure by a resident to escort one's guest(s) while in the residence halls may result in disciplinary sanctions, including loss of visitation and/or guest privileges and/or fines.

Fire Alarms: All hall occupants (residents and guests) must immediately evacuate the building when the fire alarms sound. Students should report immediately to the designated gathering point for the housing area and report to the residence life staff on site.

The setting of false fire alarms and/or the improper and unauthorized use of fire safety equipment (fire extinguishers, smoke detectors, exit signs, etc.) compromises the safety of all residents and is prohibited. Burning any substance and/or setting fires in the housing areas, including igniting flyers, decorations, or other posted materials, is not permitted under any circumstances. Violations of fire safety regulations will result in disciplinary sanctions, including fines.

Fire Exits: Fire exits may be used only in cases of emergency. Use of fire exits at any other time will result in disciplinary action, including fines.

Fire Equipment, Alarms and Extinguishers: Tampering with fire protection equipment and systems is a felony punishable by fine and/or imprisonment. Violators may also face prosecution, suspension, and/or expulsion from the University. The cost of re-charging discharged extinguishers and replacing damaged equipment may be split among all residents if the individual(s) involved in discharging or damaging them are not identified. Residents found to be disabling smoke detectors will be subject to fines and disciplinary sanctions.

Fire Safety: If you are in the building when an alarm goes off, please contact Campus Police at 372-8000 or 911. All people must clear the building and be at least 100 feet away. Each residential building or group of buildings has a designated area to report to so residence life staff can take roll.

- Seguin Hall goes to basketball hoop on Court Street side of building
- South Halls go to Chapel lawn
- North Halls go to the Sand Volleyball Courts
- South Apartments go to grass area next to Seguin Hall
- North Apartments go to basketball court near Linne
- Bogisch goes across the street to the Fritz House
- Glazener goes across the street to the grass by the Fine Arts Building.

Wait for residence life staff, police, or fire to give the signal all is ok before entering the building.

Each semester one drill is performed per residence hall. These drills are completed within 30 days of the semester beginning. The Seguin Fire/EMS Department, TLU Police Department, and the TLU Maintenance Department help with the drills.

For further policies regarding Fire please see an Area Coordinator.

Fire education is given to students during Opening Hall meetings. Each fall semester the residence life staff meets with the Seguin Fire/EMS Department to be instructed on the correct use of fire extinguishers. The fire department also does controlled fires for the staff to practice extinguishing the fires with fire extinguishers.

Flammable Items: The possession or burning of incense, candles, fireworks in any form, ammunition, petroleum fuel, motorized vehicles, gasoline-fueled machinery, explosive devices or materials, sterno, kerosene or oil lamps, or any combustible materials are strictly prohibited in residence halls and apartments, even during a loss of electrical power. If such items are found, the items will be confiscated, and the violator will be fined.

For safety reasons, ceilings, air vents and light fixtures may not be covered by paper or other flammable materials such as wrapping paper, fishnets, parachutes and large flags. Students are encouraged to purchase renters insurance. TLU accepts no liability for loss of property due to fire.

Furniture: All University furnishings must be kept inside campus residences, except for properly designed patio furniture. The University does not remove or store furniture. Misplaced furniture or furniture not in its designated location may result in a fine and/or cost of replacement.

Furnishings in common areas may not be removed to individual residences. Removing furniture from its designated location may result in disciplinary action, including fines. Damage to University furniture will require restitution for the cost of the property in addition to additional sanctions, including fines and a $25 administrative fee in addition to other fines.

Students may bring their own furniture items (with the exception of water-filled furniture) provided they do not present a safety hazard and/or create the need to store or displace furniture provided by the University.

Gambling: Texas law prohibits raffles, lotteries, or games of chance that do not meet strict state regulations. Gambling, which includes any exchange of money for a chance at a greater prize, is prohibited within the residence halls and apartments.

Guests: Residents are fully responsible for the actions of their guests. All guests must be escorted by their resident host at all times while in the housing facilities. Guests are expected to abide by all University and residence life rules, regulations, policies, and procedures. The office of residence life reserves the right to deny guest privileges to anyone who does not abide by all rules, regulations, policies, and procedures or who fails to conduct him/herself in a responsible and respectful manner.

Hall Meetings: It is necessary at times to get input from residents in the hall on ideas or problems as well as to communicate important campus information. Residents are required to attend all scheduled mandatory hall meetings and are responsible for any information presented at these meetings. Fines may be assessed to students who choose not to attend these meetings.

Hallway & Door Decorations: Consideration must be given to the floor and TLU community when decorating and posting items on the outside of the room door and in the hallway. Items that interfere with the educational mission of the University are prohibited in hallways, outside of rooms, and window displays. These include, but are not limited to, abusive, indecent, profane, or vulgar language, offensive materials determined to be racist, harassing in nature, threatening to an individual or group, pornographic, and/or displaying or promoting illegal substances.

Hallway Sports: Games such as soccer, football, frisbee, baseball, golf, basketball, skating, or other such activities are not permitted in the rooms, hallways, or common areas of campus housing. Water balloons, water and/or cream fights, and other such activities are prohibited inside all residential facilities. Rollerblades, skates, skateboards, and bicycles may not be ridden/used in the halls or University buildings. Violations will result in a disciplinary write-up plus costs for any cleaning/repairs incurred.

Halogen Lamps: Halogen lamps or halogen bulbs are not permitted in any residential facilities.

Health and Safety Inspections: During each semester, preventative safety inspections are scheduled for each student room/apartment. During these inspections, residence life staff enters the students' rooms/apartments and looks for items or conditions that might pose safety or health hazards to students or the University. Inspections are conducted with the Area Coordinator and the RA assigned to the specific area. The inspections are conducted at least two times (one before fall/spring breaks and one after fall/spring breaks) but no more than one per month during the semester. Notices are posted at least 48 hours prior to the first day of inspections. If a resident is not home during inspection time, the AC of that area will return at a later time. At no time will a staff member enter a room when a resident is not home to do an inspection. An inspection receipt will be completed and left in all rooms that do not meet TLU standards. It is important to note Health and Safety Inspections are different than a Room Search.

Housing Security: All students are expected to assume and accept responsibility for the security of the housing areas. Students should immediately report any suspicious person or activity to residence life staff and/or to the police. Propping exterior residence hall doors open is a security threat and therefore prohibited. Fines will be assessed to the individual(s) responsible. If those responsible are not identified, fines may be assessed to all residents of a wing, floor, and/or hall. To provide a more secure environment, students:

- Should remove any objects used to prop open exterior doors
- Should lock room and apartment doors
- Should not leave windows open or unlocked when unattended
- Should not permit unknown persons to enter housing areas without a resident escort
- Should not open doors to strangers

Incense: Incense is not permitted in the housing facilities at any time.

Keys: All residence hall and apartment keys are the property of Texas Lutheran University and may not be duplicated. Keys may not be modified in any manner or loaned to other persons. Possession of a key by anyone other than the individual to whom the key was issued is considered unauthorized possession and is prohibited. Students are charged $30 for each lost or missing key and lock replacement plus a $25 administrative fee. Lost keys are to be reported to the residence life staff immediately. Failure to notify a residence life staff member of a lost key within 24 hours of the loss may result in a fine. Locks and keys will be changed when considered necessary by the staff. Residents should keep their room doors locked and their keys with them at all times. Lockouts requested beyond the allotted first two will be charged according to the posted rate structure. Excessive lockouts could lead to disciplinary action.

Ledges, Roofs, and Window Frames: No persons or property are allowed on ledges, fire escapes, roofs, or window frames of University buildings. Violators will be fined and subject to disciplinary action.

Littering: Littering in or around the exterior of residential facilities is prohibited. Litter includes cigarette butts, cans, bottles, cups, wrappers, and other trash or debris. Littering may result in sanctions, including fines and the cost of any excessive cleaning.

Lock-Outs: Students who are locked out of their rooms or apartments for any reason may contact a residence life staff member for assistance. A student is permitted two free lock-outs during the year. The third and any subsequent lock-outs will result in a $5.00 fine per lock-out.

Noise: Residents are expected to be considerate of other residents in the hall and keep noise to a reasonable and considerate level. Generally, if the noise can be heard easily in another room, the volume level must be lowered to a level where it is no longer a disturbance. It should not be necessary to repeatedly approach a resident about noise.

Overnight Guests: With prior permission from one's roommate(s), students may occasionally host an overnight guest no longer than three consecutive nights. All overnight guests must be registered with the area coordinator and be of the same sex as the occupants of the room. The host is responsible for informing the guest(s) of the University's rules and regulations, and the resident host is held accountable for the actions and conduct of the guest(s).

Pets: No pets except for fish in small aquariums are allowed in the residence halls and apartments. Prohibited pets include turtles, frogs or anything not meeting the scientific definition of fish. Violations will result in a disciplinary write-up. Twenty-four hours are allowed for removal of the pet. If after 24 hours, the pet remains or reappears in any campus residence, the original owner will be written-up for a second violation and the animal will be taken to a Seguin area animal shelter. Students will be responsible for any damages and cleaning to the residential facilities, including the cost of outside pest control companies, as deemed necessary by the University.

Postings: All postings within the residential facilities must be approved by either the respective area coordinator or the director of residence life.

Quiet Hours and Dead Week: Quiet hours help ensure students' rights to an appropriate environment for sleep and study. Quiet hours are from 10:00 p.m. to 10:00 a.m. in the residence halls. Quiet hours in the apartments are midnight to 10:00 a.m. Courtesy hours are in effect during all other times. This means that students should respect their neighbors' rights by controlling noise levels at all times. Twenty-four-hour-a-day quiet hours exist during Dead Week—the time beginning at noon on the day of the last lecture and ending at noon on Sunday following graduation. Violations of quiet hours and/or Dead Week hours may result in disciplinary sanctions, including fines.

Room Responsibility: Each student shares responsibility for violations that occur in his or her room or apartment with or without his or her knowledge. This is defined as room/apartment responsibility.

Sales and Solicitation: Solicitation is prohibited in all housing areas. Individuals, including residents and/or other students representing on or off campus organizations, may not see or solicit within the residential facilities or on the property. Door-to-door or commercial sales activities are not permitted. Please notify residence life staff or contact the University police if such activity occurs. Surveys conducted in the residential areas or in the Alumni Student Center must have the approval of the director of residence life or director of student activities respectively.

Severe Weather and Tornado Warnings: The emergency siren on campus may go off and there may be an E2Campus text message sent depending on the situation at hand. Listen to residence life staff in your area. They will be informing people what to do. The following locations have been designated areas for residential buildings:

Residents are to remain in the shelter until warning has been officially lifted.

- South Halls will evacuate to the basements of Trinity and Clifton.
- North Halls will evacuate to the basement of Kraushaar.
- Seguin Hall and South Apartments when time permits, will evacuate to the basement of Moody Science.
- North Apartments will evacuate to the basement of the Library.
- Residents should move into a basement (if available), a hallway, inner stairwells, bathrooms or utility rooms, closing and securing rooms as they leave. Generally, the lower the residents can move in the building the better. Residents should follow the evacuation plans posted on the back of each room door.
- Residents are to avoid the top floors of the building and such areas as entrance foyer, lobbies, or any area, which is glass enclosed, or has a large unsupported roof.
- Students should not go outside.

In the event there is not time to properly evacuate, the apartment people need to move to first floor and get to the interior bathrooms. Seguin will move all residents to first floor and use the lounges to have students kneel down and cover their heads.

Signs: It is illegal to possess and/or display any stolen street or traffic signs or other municipal, county, state, and/or federal signs. Residents found in possession of such a sign without a receipt indicating lawful purchase of the sign will be fined, and law enforcement officials will be advised about the stolen signs.

Smoke-Free/Tobacco Free: Acknowledging the clear scientific evidence that smoking—including the use of smokeless tobacco products and the effects of second-hand smoke—is injurious to health, and acknowledging the University's desire to promote healthy living/working environments and a considerate community life, the University has declared all administrative, classroom, public buildings and housing areas on the campus to be smoke free and tobacco free facilities. This includes all residence halls and apartments. Supervisors of individual buildings and/or personnel are responsible for the enforcement of this policy. Violations may result in disciplinary sanctions, including fines.

Vandalism: Vandalism is prohibited in all housing areas. Any action by a student or a student's guest which results in damage to the facilities or grounds of the housing areas and/or to the property of others may be defined as vandalism. All expenses resulting from intentional or accidental vandalism and/or its repair will be assessed to the responsible person(s) or group(s). Whenever the individual(s) responsible for vandalism can be identified, the individual(s) will be held accountable. In such cases disciplinary sanctions, fines, and repair/replacement costs will be assessed. If the individual(s) cannot be identified, the costs will be spread evenly among all residents of the wing, floor, hall, or apartment through a group billing procedure.

Visitation Policies: A visitor is defined as anyone not assigned to the room and/or apartment.

Limited – Residents living in Baldus, Hahn, Kraushaar, and Knutson may have guests from 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 midnight, Sunday through Thursday and from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 a.m. on Friday and Saturday.

Self-Governed – Clifton, Trinity, and Seguin residents vote on their visitation policies at the beginning of each semester. At least 80% of the residents must vote. Of those voting it takes at least 80% agreeing to a specific visitation option to pass for the building. Options include: limited visitation (same as listed above); 10:00 a.m. – 12:00 midnight, Sunday through Thursday and 24 hours from 10:00 a.m. Friday through 12:00 midnight Sunday; or 24-hour visitation.

Apartment – Apartment residents may establish their own policies for their unit by agreeing to and writing those agreements in the apartment mate contract.

Suites of residents may also establish their own visitation policy as long as it does not exceed the policy established by the hall vote. The residence life office reserves the prerogative to establish visitation policies in any halls should it be deemed necessary.

With prior permission from one's roommate(s), students may occasionally host an overnight guest no longer than three consecutive nights. All overnight guests must be registered with the area coordinator and be of the same sex as the occupants of the room. The host is responsible for informing the guest(s) of the University's rules and regulations, and the resident host is held accountable for the actions and conduct of the guest(s).

Violations of visitation policies may result in disciplinary sanctions, including but not limited to loss of visitation and guest privileges and/or fines.

Water Beds: Water beds and other water filled furnishings are prohibited in all housing areas.

Weapons and Firearms: Possession or use of weapons or ammunition is not permitted on campus. This includes but is not limited to: firearms, rifles, stun guns, BB guns, paint ball guns, bow and arrows, switch blades, knives (except a common pocket knife with a blade less than 3.5 inches in length), nun chucks, martial arts or medieval weapons, and sling shots. However any object used as a weapon will be considered a weapon. Students who reside on campus may transport their hunting and target firearms directly to the police department and check them in for storage. The firearms may not be loaded or kept in public view on campus while being transported to and from the police department. Unless the above conditions are met or the TLU Board of Regents grants prior written authorization, firearms on campus are in violation of Section 46.03 of the Texas Penal Code and violations may result in prosecution.

Any object which could potentially inflict injury or cause harm when used in a threatening, careless, or aggressive manner and shoots a projectile will be considered a weapon. Possession of weapons of any type, including but not limited to firearms, ammunition, air guns, bb guns, paint ball guns, gun replicas, bows, incendiary and/or explosive devices, slingshots, knives, razors, swords, and martial arts or medieval weapons, are prohibited. Possession and/or use of fireworks, including sparklers, is prohibited. Possession and/or use will result in immediate confiscation of the item(s) and disciplinary action.

Windows: Windows, other than sliding glass doors found in the apartments, are not to be opened because buildings heat and cool more effectively when windows remain closed. Items should not be thrown, hung, or placed outside of any window. Decorations and signs, unless authorized by the area coordinator, should not be displayed from windows. Any person found entering or leaving a room through a window may be fined. In addition, a resident allowing someone to enter through a window may be fined.

VI. STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

Student Code of Conduct

Preamble

Texas Lutheran University is committed to creating and maintaining an environment where individual and institutional responsibility combine to promote each student's complete education and development. The academic freedoms to teach and learn are integral to this environment. The University seeks to develop policies and procedures that encourage these freedoms, which depend on appropriate opportunities and conditions in the classroom, on campus, and in the larger community. Students should exercise their freedom with responsibility. The responsibility to secure and respect general conditions conducive to the freedom to learn is shared by all members of the academic community. TLU will strive to develop policies and procedures that provide and safeguard this freedom.

In order for TLU to achieve this goal within an atmosphere where the rights of its members are respected, it is necessary to establish a code of student conduct. These regulations have been developed to reflect the nature of a student community and the situations inherent in it.

It is the intention of this code to clarify the standards of behavior essential to TLU's educational mission and its community life. While the code is comprehensive and applicable to all students, it is not written with the specificity of a criminal statute, it is not an exhaustive attempt to codify every possible type of problematic behavior, and it is not a contract between the University and its students. The code is enforceable both on campus and off campus.

Each student will be treated as an individual within the disciplinary process, with the goal of enhancing his/her growth in various areas, including those of developing responsibility for discipline and behavior. Because of the individual nature of students, their behaviors, and the particular circumstances involved, the University may not in every situation be able to follow this code precisely. The following are seen as the desired outcomes for the student disciplinary process:

- To encourage and teach responsibility for one's own actions.
- To inform and thus redirect problematic behavior.
- To protect the rights of others in the community.

Every student member of the University community is provided benefits in accordance with the expectation that each student has maturity, intelligence, and concern for the rights of others. Only when a person demonstrates a lack of cooperation and considerations does the University, acting through its officials and conduct policies, take some disciplinary action. Behavior, whether attempted or committed, judged to be disruptive to the community atmosphere cannot be tolerated.

Students are asked to assume positions of responsibility in the enforcement of the code of conduct at TLU in order that they might contribute their skills and insights to the resolution of disciplinary cases. Final authority in disciplinary matters, however, is vested in the president of the University and his/her designees. The vice president and dean of student life and learning shall have authority from the president of TLU to assign adjudication of cases to the student conduct coordinator, judicial council, appellate body, or administration.

It is important to note that several other important policies also govern specific aspects of campus life. All students need to be familiar with the following:

- Residence life policies
- Parking and vehicle policies
- Food service policies
- Telecommunication policies
- Academic policies

ARTICLE I: DEFINITIONS

1. The term “University” means Texas Lutheran University.
2. The term “student” includes all persons taking courses at the University, both full-time and part-time, and pursuing undergraduate or professional studies. Persons who are not officially enrolled for a particular term but who have a continuing relationship with TLU or who have been notified of their acceptance for admission are considered “students” as are persons who are living in the University’s residence halls or apartments although not enrolled in this institution. This student code does apply at all locations of the University.

Generally there are two student conduct coordinators: the associate dean of student life and learning and the director of residence life.
10. The term “appellate body” means any person or persons authorized by the vice president and dean of student life and learning to consider an appeal from a judicial body’s determination as to whether a student has violated the student code or from the sanctions imposed by the student conduct coordinator.

18. The term “accused student” means any student accused of violating this student code.

ARTICLE II: STANDARDS AND PROCESS IN CONDUCT CODE VIOLATION CASES

The purpose of a disciplinary proceeding is to provide an evaluation of an accused student’s responsibility for violating the student code of conduct. Formal courtroom rules need not and will not be applied. Deviations from the outlined procedures may occur on occasion and will not invalidate a decision or proceeding unless, in the sole discretion of the vice president and dean of student life and learning or his/her designees, a significant prejudice to a student or the University may result or has resulted.

The University disciplinary hearing system should not become excessively legalistic or adversarial. The hearing bodies may find it necessary frequently and firmly to remind parties or advisers that the proceedings are not criminal or civil trials, that criminal or civil standards of due process and rules of evidence are not controlling and that the hearing bodies shall enjoy considerable discretion to interpret, vary, and waive procedural requirements.

The University reserves the right to modify these processes when it determines necessary in particular circumstances.

ARTICLE III: STUDENT CODE AUTHORITY

The vice president and dean of student life and learning is designated by the Texas Lutheran University president to be responsible for the development of policies and the administration of the student code of conduct.

The Student Conduct Coordinator:

1. Shall determine which judicial body will be authorized to hear each case.
2. Shall determine the disciplinary charges to be filed pursuant to this code.
3. Is designated by the vice president and dean of student life and learning with the power of imposing sanctions upon students found responsible for violating the student code of conduct.

4. Shall uphold policies for the administration of the disciplinary program, procedural guidelines for the conduct of the hearings, and guidelines for recommending appropriate sanctions which are not inconsistent with the provisions of the student code of conduct.
5. May consider alternative forms of conflict resolution, such as mediation or arbitration, in cases that do not involve a violation of the student code of conduct. Mediation/arbitration shall be conducted only if all parties agree to the mediation/arbitration, and when the parties so agree, they shall be bound by the decision with no right of appeal, except that the vice president and dean of student life and learning shall have ultimate authority to overturn the arbitration decision when deemed appropriate in his/her sole discretion.

Except as indicated above, decisions made by the student conduct coordinator shall be final, pending the normal appeal process.

The Judicial Council:

1. Shall be comprised of four faculty members (appointed by the president), four students (representative of each class and appointed by the student government association), with the associate dean of student life and learning serving as liaison.
2. Is designated by the vice president and dean of student life and learning with the power of determining responsibility or not of violations of the student code of conduct.
3. Shall uphold policies for the administration of the disciplinary program, procedural guidelines for the conduct of the hearings, and guidelines for recommending appropriate sanctions to the student conduct coordinator which are not inconsistent with the provisions of the student code of conduct.

Except as indicated above, decisions made by the Judicial Council shall be final, pending the normal appeal process

ARTICLE IV: PROSCRIBED CONDUCT

Jurisdiction of the Texas Lutheran University Student Code

The Texas Lutheran University student code shall apply to conduct that occurs on University premises; at University-sponsored activities, and to off-campus conduct that adversely affects the University community and/or the pursuit of its objectives. Each student shall be responsible for his/her conduct from the time of application for admission through the actual awarding of a degree, even though conduct may occur before classes begin or after classes end, as well as during the academic year and during periods between terms of actual enrollment (and even if their conduct is not discovered until after a degree is awarded). The student code shall apply to a student's conduct even if the student withdraws from school while a disciplinary matter is pending. The vice president and dean of student life and learning shall decide whether the student code shall be applied to conduct occurring off campus, on a case-by-case basis, in his/her sole discretion.

Standards of Classroom Behavior

Students are expected to have high standards of behavior in the classroom, and rules of reasonable behavior should prevail. Classroom behavior should follow guidelines established by the individual professor. Students who engage in prohibited or unlawful acts that result in the disruption of a class may be directed by the faculty member to leave the class for the remainder of the class period. Longer suspensions from a class or dismissal on disciplinary grounds generally will be preceded by a disciplinary hearing, as set forth in Article VII of this code. The University reserves the right, however, to suspend students, pending hearings, when determined necessary to protect members of the University community or otherwise determined by the University to be appropriate.

The term "prohibited acts" would include behavior prohibited by the instructor (e.g., persistent speaking out without being called upon, refusing to be seated, disrupting the class by leaving and entering the room without authorization, etc.). It must be emphasized that this provision is not designed to be used as a means to punish classroom dissent. The lawful expression of disagreement with the instructor is not in itself disruptive behavior.

Any student found to have committed the following misconduct is subject to the disciplinary sanctions outlined in Article V:

1. Violation of federal, state or local law on University premises or at any University sponsored or supervised activity that occurs off campus.

These include, but are not limited to, the names or logos of University athletic teams or organizations; recognized student organizations, residence halls and other campus buildings; images and descriptions from University publications. Inappropriate use includes, but is not limited to:

 - h. Failure to comply with the sanction(s) imposed under the code of conduct.
 - i. Influencing or attempting to influence another person to commit an abuse of the judicial system.

Violation of Law and University Discipline

Texas Lutheran University students are expected to abide by federal, state and local laws, regulations and ordinances. Violations of federal, Texas, Guadalupe County and/or City of Seguin laws may be referred to the appropriate outside agencies for disposition in addition to or in lieu of any University disciplinary action. In the event of complaints from community citizens or agencies, the University will cooperate fully with local authorities in the performance of their duties.

Action which results in a student being involved in legal proceedings in civil or criminal court does not free the student of responsibility for his or her conduct in the University disciplinary system. If a student is charged in both jurisdictions, the University generally will proceed with its own judicial process according to its own timetable. Disciplinary action at the University will not be subject to challenge on the ground that criminal charges involving the same incident have been dismissed or reduced.

TLU also reserves the right to itself initiate disciplinary proceedings against students who have been formally charged by legal authorities with criminal violations that occurred off campus or who may have otherwise committed an action off-campus which may be related to the security or safety of the University community or the integrity of the educational process or otherwise constitute a violation of the student code of conduct. Such discretion rests with the president of the University, the provost, or the vice president and dean of student life and learning.

ARTICLE V: STUDENT CONDUCT CODE PROCEDURES

In the interest of providing a reasonable, fair, and orderly manner in which to process student code violations, the University uses the following procedures. However, in cases of a confidential, sensitive, or urgent nature, the vice president and dean of student life and learning may reserve the right to adjudicate the case, refer the incident to the student conduct coordinator, or to the University administration. Also, during the first three weeks and last three weeks of the semester, the dean may adjudicate the case or postpone a hearing until the following semester.

Charges

1. Any member of the University community may file charges against a student for violations of the student code. A charge shall be prepared in writing and directed to the student conduct coordinator. Normally, this may be accomplished by filing a report with TLU police department, completing and filing a residence life incident report, or submitting a photocopy of an official police report. Any charge should be submitted as soon as possible after the event takes place.
2. Charges will be directed to one of the two student conduct coordinators; with the division generally being that the director of residence life handles cases arising from policy violations within University housing and the associate dean of student life and learning handles cases arising from policy violations within the community at large.
3. The student conduct coordinator will determine the disposition of the charges and may decide among the following options:
 - a. The charges have no merit.
 - b. The charges have merit and may be administratively settled by mutual consent of the involved parties on a basis acceptable to the student conduct coordinator. Such disposition shall be final, and there shall be no subsequent proceedings.
 - c. The charges have merit and are appropriate for hearing by the appropriate judicial body. These include:
 1. Staff Hearing: Most cases arising from policy violations in University housing. Generally heard by area coordinators or other professional members of the residence life staff.
 2. Administrative Hearing: Cases heard by one of the student conduct coordinators.
 3. Judicial Council Hearing: Cases heard by the Judicial Council which is comprised of faculty, staff, and students.
 - d. The charges have merit but are not appropriate for hearing and will be handled administratively by other means.
4. In cases involving a charge of sexual assault or sexual harassment, the student conduct coordinator will meet with the victim and discuss the possible campus judicial alternatives available to the victim, including:
 - a. Administrative hearing (case heard by the student conduct coordinator)
 - b. Judicial Council hearing
 - c. Administratively handled by other means

If the alleged victim does not elect to pursue a hearing, the University may itself direct the student conduct coordinator to initiate a hearing or may pursue other disciplinary processes.

Process

The following process generally shall apply to a student in any University disciplinary hearing.

1. Written notice of the charges shall be provided to the affected student whenever formal action upon such charges is initiated. If possible, notice is to be given within 60 class days of the alleged violation and at least five class days in advance of the date set for the hearing, with sufficient particularity as to the facts that the student may reasonably investigate the charge and prepare his/her defense. Generally, hearings shall be held not more than 15 class days after the affected student has been noticed. Deadlines and time limits may be extended at the discretion of the student conduct coordinator.
2. Hearings shall be conducted according to the following guidelines:
 - a. Hearings shall be conducted in private and shall not be open to members of the college community or members of the community at large, unless permission to attend is granted both by the judicial body and the vice president and dean of student life and learning. At all times the

- judicial body and the vice president and dean of student life and learning shall have authority to determine whose presence at a hearing shall be permitted or not permitted.
- b. The complainant and the accused shall be permitted to appear in person and provide witnesses, statements or other evidence. The complainant and the accused shall be permitted to suggest to the judicial body persons who he/she believe should be questioned by the judicial body and questions which he/she believes should be asked of those persons. The judicial body shall have authority to determine which witnesses it shall call, which questions shall be asked, and which documents or other tangible evidence shall be considered. Generally, all questioning of witnesses shall be done by members of the judicial body. This method is used to preserve the educational tone of the hearing and to avoid creation of an adversarial environment. The judicial body shall, in making its determinations as to which evidence to admit and consider, give consideration to factors such as justice, fairness, efficiency, avoidance of unnecessary duplication of evidence, and other goals it deems appropriate.
 - c. The complainant and the accused must notify the person or the chair of the judicial body hearing the case of the names of his/her suggested witnesses at least three class days prior to the hearing date.
 - d. Written notification of the results of any disciplinary hearing shall be sent within five class days of that hearing, unless that period is extended by the vice president and dean of student life and learning.
 - e. Appeal requests shall be based on the criteria outlined in the appeals section below.
 - f. The complainant, accused student and their advisors, if any, shall be allowed to attend the entire portion of the hearing at which information is received (excluding deliberations). Admission of any other person to the student hearing shall be at the discretion of the student conduct coordinator and/or the Judicial Council.
 - g. In hearings involving more than one accused student, the judicial body may permit the hearings concerning each student be conducted either separately or jointly.
 - h. The complainant and the accused have the right to be assisted by an adviser of their choice. Guidelines for advisers are:
 1. Advisers must be a current member of the TLU community or an immediate family member and may not be an attorney.
 2. The purpose of the adviser is to support a student in the judicial process. Advisers should be chosen for their ability to understand the circumstances, assist a student with the process of preparing for a hearing, and guide the student through the actual hearing.
 3. Advisers may confer with the student involved, but they do not actively participate in the hearing. The complainant and/or the accused is responsible for presenting his/her own case and, therefore, advisers are not permitted to speak or participate directly in any hearing before a judicial body.
 4. Advisers do not represent the student. That is, information will be directly communicated to, released to, or accepted from involved students, not advisers. All information concerning any case may be made available to advisers with the written permission of the involved student.
 - i. Pertinent records, exhibits, and written statements may be accepted as information for consideration by a student conduct coordinator and/or the Judicial Council at the discretion of the chairperson.
 - j. All procedural questions are subject to the final decision of the student conduct coordinator or the chairperson of the Judicial Council.
 - k. After the portion of the hearing concludes in which all pertinent information has been received, the student conduct coordinator or the Judicial Council shall determine whether the accused student has violated each section of the student code which the student is charged with violating.
 - l. The student conduct coordinator or the Judicial Council's determination shall be made on the basis of whether it is more likely than not that the accused student has violated the student code.
 - m. Formal rules of process, procedure, and/or technical rules of evidence, such as applied in criminal or civil court, are not used in student code proceedings.
3. There shall be a single verbatim record, such as a tape recording, of all student hearings before a student conduct coordinator or Judicial Council with the exception of staff hearings (not including deliberations). Deliberations shall not be recorded. The record shall be the property of the University and generally will be maintained in the possession of the vice president and dean of student life and learning office for a period of four years following the hearing.

4. An accused student may voluntarily waive his/her right to appear before a judicial body for a hearing. However, if properly noticed of the date, time, and location of the hearing failure of the accused to appear shall not result in the cancellation or postponement of the hearing. The hearing will be held in the absence of the accused student, unless such absence is excused by the vice president and dean of student life and learning.
5. An accused student may also waive their rights concerning the timing of hearings in agreement with the student conduct coordinator.
6. Except in the case of a student charged with failing to obey the summons of a judicial body or college official, no student may be found to have violated the code of student conduct solely because the student failed to appear before a judicial body. In all cases, the evidence in support of the charges shall be presented and considered, even if the charged student fails to appear.
7. The student conduct coordinator and/or Judicial Council may accommodate concerns for the personal safety, well-being, and/or fears of confrontation of the complainant, accused student, and/or other witness during the hearing by providing separate facilities, by using a visual screen, and/or by permitting participation by telephone, videophone, closed circuit television, video conferencing, videotape, audio tape, written statement, or other means, where and as determined in sole judgment of the vice president and dean of student life and learning to be appropriate.

Sanctions

Students who choose to violate University policies can expect consequences to follow. The following are examples and definitions of specific sanctions that may be imposed upon any student found to have violated the code of conduct. Other sanctions may be imposed or deemed appropriate in certain circumstances.

Level I (First-time, less serious violations):

- Warning - a notice in writing to the student that the conduct is violating or has violated the code of conduct or community standards.
- Attend an educational program related to the incident.
- Restitution and/or apology to affected persons. Restitution - compensation for loss, damage or injury. This may take the form of appropriate service and/or monetary or material replacement.
- Discretionary Sanctions - work assignments, service to the University, or other related discretionary assignments (such assignments must have the prior approval of the student conduct coordinator).
- Fines - previously established and published fines may be imposed. In some instances, appropriate discretionary fines may also be imposed.
- Loss of Privileges - denial of specified privileges for a designated period of time.
- Other sanctions as appropriate.
- Referral to appropriate University staff.
- Referral for alcohol/drug screening or assessment, if substance abuse was involved,

Please note that students may receive a lesser sanction if it is determined they were present and aware of an activity where a violation took place, but were not directly responsible for the action.

Level II (Repeated or more serious first-time violations):

- Confidential notification of parents, academic advisor, athletic coach, co-curricular program directors, or others as appropriate.
- University Housing Probation (further violation can result in reassignment of or removal from housing).
- Disciplinary Probation – A written reprimand for violation of specified regulations. Probation may be imposed for at least one semester and not more than one calendar year; the student is automatically removed from probation at the end of the time period. There is a probability of more severe disciplinary sanctions if the student is found to violate any institutional regulation(s) during this probationary period. During probation the student is not able to represent the University in any honorary capacity, hold an elected office, participate in intercollegiate athletics, or participate in other co-curricular groups or activities. If such positions are held when the probationary period begins, the appropriate faculty/staff advisors, coaches, and/or sponsors will be notified.

- Other sanctions appropriate to violation.

Level III (Most serious violations, including but not limited to flagrant violations of policy; abuse of or non-cooperation with University staff; incidents involving threats or violence; or repeated violations of policy):

- University Housing reassignment, suspension or expulsion. University Housing Suspension - separation of the student from University housing for a definite period of time, after which the student is eligible to return. Conditions for readmission may be specified. University Housing Expulsion - permanent separation of the student from University housing.
- Disciplinary Suspension – Separation of the student from the University for a one semester or up to one calendar year after which the student is eligible to return. Conditions for readmission may be specified. Disciplinary suspension indicates that a student is no longer enrolled at the University, that the student did not withdraw voluntarily, and that the student is not permitted on campus. The student is prohibited from registering or attending any TLU classes for credit or non-credit, from participating in or taking leadership in any campus organization, or from participating in activities of the University.
- Enforced Withdrawal – This sanction is the same as suspension except the period of suspension is indefinite, and the student’s return to TLU is dependent on his/her reapplying for admission and receiving clearance for readmission from the vice president and dean of student life and learning.
- Expulsion – The University imposes this permanent severance after repeated violations of University policies and/or after a violation of such severity as to warrant this action.
- Revocation of Admission and/or Degree – Admission to or a degree awarded from the University may be revoked for fraud, misrepresentation, or other violation of University standards in obtaining the degree, or for other serious violation committed by a student prior to graduation.
- Withholding Degree - The University may withhold awarding a degree otherwise earned until the completion of the process set forth in this student conduct code, including the completion of all sanctions imposed, if any.
- Other sanctions appropriate to violation.

1. Depending on the circumstances, Level I, II or III sanctions may be implemented at any time and in any order.
2. More than one of the sanctions listed above may be imposed for any single violation.
3. Sanctions are cumulative and must be completed by the assigned date. Incomplete sanctions will result in a student being unable to register for the following semester.
4. Other than University expulsion, disciplinary sanctions shall not be made a part of the student's permanent academic record, but shall become part of the student's confidential record. Upon graduation, the student's confidential record may be expunged of disciplinary actions other than residence hall expulsion, University suspension or University expulsion at the discretion of the student conduct coordinator. Cases involving the imposition of sanctions other than residence hall expulsion, University suspension or University expulsion shall be expunged from the student's confidential record five years after the final disposition of the case or one year after graduation from TLU, whichever comes first.
5. The following sanctions may be imposed on groups or organizations:
 - a. Those sanctions listed above.
 - b. Deactivation: loss of all privileges, including University recognition, for a specified period of time

6. In each case in which a judicial body determines that a student has violated the code of conduct, the sanction(s) shall be determined and imposed by the student conduct coordinator. In cases in which persons other than or in addition to the student conduct coordinator have been authorized to serve as the judicial body, the recommendation of all members of the judicial body shall be considered by the student conduct coordinator in determining and imposing sanctions. The student conduct coordinator is not limited to sanctions recommended by members of the judicial body.

Following the hearing, the judicial body and the student conduct coordinator shall advise the accused in writing of its determination and the sanction(s) imposed, if any. The vice president and dean of student life and learning shall have final authority to determine the appropriateness of sanctions.

Appeals

1. A decision reached by the student conduct coordinator or a sanction imposed by the student conduct coordinator may be appealed by the accused student(s) or complainant(s) within three (3) school days of the decision. Such appeals shall be in writing and shall be delivered to the office of the vice president and dean of student life and learning.
2. The vice president and dean of student life and learning or a designee shall determine whether the matter is appropriate for appeal based on whether the information contained in the written request for appeal gives reason to believe that:
 - a. The original hearing may not have been conducted fairly in light of the charges and evidence presented and/or may not have been conducted in conformity with University guidelines (that give the complaining party a reasonable opportunity to prepare and present evidence that the code of conduct was violated, and that give the accused party a reasonable opportunity to prepare and to present a rebuttal of those allegations); or
 - b. The decision reached regarding the accused student may not have been based on substantial evidence, that is, the facts in the case may not have been sufficient to establish that a violation of the code of conduct occurred; or
 - c. The sanction(s) imposed may not have been appropriate for the violation of the code of conduct which the student was found to have committed; or
 - d. New evidence may exist which is sufficient to alter the decision, and such evidence was not brought out in the original hearing because such evidence was not known to the person appealing at the time of the original hearing.
3. The vice president and dean of student life and learning will forward appeals to the appropriate appellate body. The general guidelines for determining the appropriate appellate body are:
 - a. Cases originating from staff hearings are normally appealed to the director of residence life/student conduct coordinator.
 - b. Cases originating from administrative hearings normally are appealed to the Judicial Council.
 - c. Cases originating from the Judicial Council are normally are appealed to the vice president and dean of student life and learning.
4. Except when testimony or written statements shall be required for the presentation of new evidence, an appeal shall be limited to review of the verbatim record of the initial hearing and supporting documents.
5. While the matter is under appeal, the sanctions assessed, if any, are not carried out and the accused student(s) and/or complainant(s) academic status, ability to live on campus, and attendance in classes is not to be suspended unless the vice president and dean of student life and learning or the University provost has reasonable cause to believe that a student's continued enrollment poses some danger, disruption, or consequence not in the best interests of the University community. In such a case the dean or provost may impose temporary disciplinary action from among the sanctions cited above to remain in effect until the completion of the appeals process. The dean or provost will inform the student immediately and in writing of such an action.

Commentary

An appeal must not be confused with a new or second hearing. The role of an appellate body is to consider an appeal, not to re-hear a case, that is, the basis for the appeal must fall within one or more of the aforementioned guidelines. Disagreement with the result of the hearing or any sanctions levied does not itself constitute the basis for an appeal.

1. If an appeal is upheld, the appellate body may:
 - a. Overturn all or any part of the original decision and issue a new decision.
 - b. Remand the matter to the original judicial body and student conduct coordinator for reopening of the hearing to allow reconsideration of the original determination and/or sanction(s).
2. In cases involving appeals requested by students accused of violating the code of student conduct, review of the sanction(s) by the appellate body may not result in more severe sanction(s) for the accused student. Instead, following an appeal, the appellate body may, upon review of the case, reduce, but not increase, the sanctions imposed by the student conduct coordinator.
3. In cases involving appeals requested by persons other than students accused of violating the code of student conduct, the appellate body may, upon review of the case, reduce or increase the sanctions imposed by the student conduct coordinator or remand the case to the original judicial body and student conduct coordinator.

ARTICLE VI: INTERIM SUSPENSION

The vice president and dean of student life and learning or a designee may evict from University housing or suspend from the University a student pending disciplinary proceedings or other outcome. The interim eviction and/or suspension shall become immediately effective without prior notice. Interim suspension shall be considered an excused absence.

1. Interim suspension generally will be imposed when deemed appropriate by the University in circumstances including but not limited to:
 - a. ensuring the safety and well being of members of the University community or preservation of University property;
 - b. ensuring the student's own physical or emotional safety and well being; or
 - c. avoiding the threat of disruption of or interference with the normal operations of the University.
2. During the interim suspension, a student shall be denied access to University housing and/or to the campus (including classes) and/or all other University activities or privileges for which the student might otherwise be eligible, as the vice president and dean of student life and learning or the student conduct coordinator may determine to be appropriate.
3. The interim suspension does not replace the regular process, which shall proceed on the normal schedule, up to and through a student conduct hearing, if required.

ARTICLE VII: INTERPRETATION AND REVISION

1. Any question of interpretation of application of the student code shall be referred to the vice president and dean of student life and learning or his or her designee for final determination.
2. The student code shall be reviewed every two years under the direction of the vice president and dean of student life and learning.

VII. STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

All student organizations are to register officially with the Student Government Association and the student activities office. Organizations are subject to all rules, regulations, policies, and procedures of Texas Lutheran University. Organizations are not regarded as authorized agents of the University; the University assumes no responsibility for the actions of organizations. Organizations are to work closely with the director of student activities, the Student Government Association, and the dean of students for guidance and compliance with campus regulations.

Organizational Guidelines

Membership: By the end of the third week of each semester all organizations are to file a membership listing of active and non-active members presently enrolled. Active members of any non-academic or honorary organization must have a minimum of a 2.0 grade point average. The registration and records office will confirm students' GPAs. Members of social fraternities and sororities must be full-time students at the University. Students placed on academic or disciplinary probation or suspension are automatically disqualified from active membership.

Students opting to withdraw, de-pledge or become inactive in an organization must have the ability to do so. The organization will be held responsible for the treatment of students withdrawing from any given organization. The desires of the individual student should be respected. Groups harassing or otherwise mistreating former members will be subject to sanctions by the director of student activities, the Greek Council, SGA and/or any other offices governing student organizations and student life.

Advisors: All organizations must have at least one advisor from among those listed on the roster of full-time University faculty and administrative staff. The advisor provides guidance and support and assumes an advisory role in the conduct of organizational events. An advisor must be present at all functions where alcohol will be present and has been approved.

Events: Organizational events occurring on campus must be registered in the student activities office. Such events include those taking place in the name of the organization or those attended by the membership of the organization. Failure to register events can result in disciplinary action. Officers of the organization are responsible for the observance of University policies. The campus calendar announces all registered events. Events should not be held during scheduled worship times, during other major University events, or dead week. Any events involving official printing projects need to have the projects approved by the office of marketing and communications in Beck Center.

Fundraising: Fundraising activities must have the approval of the director of student activities; outside groups are not allowed to solicit funds on-campus. Students wishing to conduct fundraising activities in the Seguin community must have prior written permission from the University's vice-president for development. This includes direct or indirect solicitation in the community, and the sale of advertisements, materials, or services by students, faculty, or staff in any way related to the University.

Liability: On and off-campus organizational events must comply with all University policies regarding personal behavior, alcoholic beverages, illegal drugs, property damage, hazing and the like. In the case of sanctioned off-campus events, the sponsoring organization and its officers assume all legal liabilities and are encouraged to seek the guidance of their University sponsors/advisors and policies. (See Alcohol in the University Regulations & Policies section.)

Pledging: Activities that can do mental, emotional, or bodily harm to any person or that violate the dignity of any individual are not condoned. All pledging activities, on or off campus, must be consistent with the University's policy on hazing. This applies to orientation, initiation, activities, and publications of student organizations, classes, and teams.

- All Greek pledges, officers, and sponsors must attend a required information session one week prior to pledge season. This meeting will be set up by the director of student activities.
- The Inter-Fraternity Council, Inter-Sorority Council and other organizations which establish pledge periods are to design their activities to be consistent with University policies and state law.
- New students must be enrolled at least one semester at TLU before they are eligible to pledge a fraternity or sorority.
- Recruitment standards must be consistent with the University's policies. Actions that violate the University policies or standards may result in disciplinary sanction against all individuals and organizations involved. This includes, but is not limited to, the policies regarding discrimination, harassment, alcohol, and hazing.
- New members of an organization must be informed about initiation activities before they begin. Consent to participate does not excuse an organization from taking responsibility for the types of activities required of new members.
- Initiation events should (i) not interfere with any academic endeavors, (ii) have minimal effect on campus life and (iii) respect the rights of non-participating students.
- A careful assessment of the physical condition of a pledge will be made by the organization before physical activity is undertaken.
- Hazing is prohibited and may lead to arrest as well as disciplinary action by the University.
- Using, administering, or requiring the taking of any stimulant, narcotic, or other drugs (including alcohol) is prohibited. (See also Hazing in the University Regulations & Policies section.)

Religious Groups: Campus Ministry at Texas Lutheran University is a coordinated program administered by the Campus Pastor guided by the Campus Ministry Mission Statement, and the Texas Lutheran University Mission Statement. The Campus Ministry Program is strengthened by the presence of dynamic and diverse religious student organizations. These student organizations are approved by both the Religious Activities Committee and the TLU Student Government Association. The Religious Activities Committee ensures that all religious organizations are guided by the Campus Ministry Mission Statement, and are part of a "culture of civility" in which all groups are valued and respected, common ground is celebrated, and differences are discussed in constructive conversation. The TLU Student Government Association oversees all student organizations on campus, and administers the allocation of student activity funds.

Guidelines for Religious Organizations at Texas Lutheran University

- Religious organizations must be established and administered by full time TLU students. (Under no circumstances are outside religious groups allowed to come on campus to recruit members to form a religious organization.)
- Religious organizations must first be approved by the Religious Activities Committee and then the Student Government Association.
- Religious organizations are required to provide the Religious Activities Committee with an updated mission statement, and a written report at the end of each semester. This report will include highlights of the past semester, future plans, budget information, and a list of members, officers and advisor(s).
- Religious organizations are required to appoint a representative member to the Campus Ministry Council. (The Campus Ministry Council serves to help coordinate programs, foster partnerships, celebrate shared values, and foster constructive conversation in areas of disagreement.)
- Religious organizations are encouraged to bear witness to their faith through service to others, participating in the worship life on campus, and being active in the community of faith. Programs, materials, and special events that seek primarily to convert others to their faith or their expression of faith are not permitted.

Service: Student organizations are strongly encouraged to support the mission and work of the University and to have a positive effect on our campus and community. In particular, members of organizations are encouraged to be involved in volunteerism.

Violations: The University's disciplinary system (see the Student Code of Conduct section) handles any violation of University policy by student organizations. Officers of the organization are to represent the organization at the hearings. Violations can result in reprimand, probationary terms, organizational suspension, or revocation of charter. Individuals associated with organizations may also receive judicial sanctions for violating the student handbook's organizational guidelines.

The vice president and dean of student life and learning serves as an ex officio member of the council and as a liaison between the council and the University administration and SGA. The committee members will elect their chair annually. The council is responsible for editorial policy, the maintenance of journalistic standards, the selection of all editorial staff, and the formulation of journalistic ethics.

Guidelines for National Clubs and Organizations at Texas Lutheran University

All students wishing to charter a national organization at TLU must submit a constitution to the Student Government Association and the office of student activities for approval. Greek organizations must also submit a petition to Greek Council requesting a non-binding recommendation to SGA. Final approval of the charter rests with the University Board of Regents.

In addition to submitting a constitution outlining the purpose, objective and significance of the proposed organization, the group must meet the following criteria:

- The mission of the organization must be consistent with the mission of the University.
- The organization must not promote or tolerate, formally or informally, hazing of any kind.
- The organization must reflect a national record of integrity.
- The organization must present a convincing case that it is seriously committed to abiding by all present and future regulations of the University.
- The organization must have a primary emphasis upon service to the University community and the larger community in order to enhance life on campus for all students.
- In accepting official status at TLU, the organization agrees that it will never seek or obtain separate housing for its members on campus or off.

Student Organization Sponsored Event

All University recognized student organization sponsored events must meet the following criteria:

- All state and local laws must be obeyed.
- Group sponsors must be present at all times and keep a copy of the party permit with them at all times.
- Advisor must be present at all times during events where alcohol is present.
- Security must be arranged for and must be provided by the TLU police department.
- All student-sponsored events for which alcohol is authorized will employ a state-licensed purveyor of beer and wine.
- Sponsors of student organizations holding authorized events at which alcohol is permitted are responsible for helping enforce the University's alcohol policy and for informing the TLU police and the vice president and dean of student life and learning of infractions of which they are aware.

Failure to meet these requirements will result in administrative sanctions against the sponsors and/or sponsoring organization as well as to the individuals identified as violating the TLU policy. In addition, failure to meet the above requirements will result in the party being shut down by University police.

Designated Areas: Only Jackson Park and the Student Activity Center may be used for student-sponsored events where alcohol is to be consumed.

Boundaries: The event must be confined to the designated area and to the times approved, which cannot conflict with the laws of the state, city or county. Guadalupe County law states that alcohol may not be consumed publicly, after 12 midnight Sunday through Friday, or after 1:00 a.m. Saturday night/Sunday morning. Federal, state, county, and local laws will be enforced. Events must have identifiable boundaries that provide security with the ability to control access.

Party Permits: On-campus events where alcohol is to be served must be approved by the vice president and dean of student life and learning at least ten days in advance. The party permit will indicate all the important information about the event, its sponsors, and its conduct and will require that the organization's officers sign that they are aware of this alcohol policy and are assuming all responsibility for their event. No permits will be approved when final exams take place on the day following the event. Party permits are available through the office of student activities. Organizations are responsible for the damages incurred during their event and will be billed accordingly.

Note: The biology field station at Lake McQueeney is considered an on-campus location.

Off-campus Event Registration: Students planning off-campus events are to register the event in the student activities office. No promotional activities will be permitted for the event until it is registered. Texas Lutheran assumes no responsibility or liability for events sponsored by students or student organizations off campus; such responsibility is entirely that of the sponsoring students or organization. Event organizers are expected to know and abide by the requirements of state and local laws and are encouraged to determine their legal responsibilities when participating in any sanctioned off-campus activity.

Hosting: The members of the sponsoring organization are to see to it that no minors are served, that intoxicated individuals are denied further alcohol, and that no alcohol is carried from the designated area. Sponsors and advisors are responsible for the conduct of the groups under their administration.

Quantities: The amount of alcohol present at an event must remain in proportion to the number of guests of legal age expected. The alcohol must be consumed only during the times stated on the event form. Exiting an event with an open container will not be permitted.

Alternative Beverages: Events at which alcohol is available must offer equal quantities of non-alcoholic beverages. So-called beer blasts, trash can punch, or all-you-can-drink functions are prohibited. The quantity of non-alcoholic drinks must be proportionate to the number of minors and non-drinkers present.

Food: Food in sufficient quantities must be provided to help offset the negative effects of alcohol.

Clean Up: The members of the sponsoring organization are responsible for all clean up after the activity. The organization will be billed for any cleaning performed by the University.

Security: On-campus events are to have a sufficient number of police officers present for the size of the group expected as approved by the chief of University police. One officer is normally required for a group of up to 25 persons, two officers for 26-100, and three officers for more than 100. A minimum of two officers are required when alcohol has been approved for the event. More officers may be necessary at the discretion of the police chief based on the amount of attendees. Exceptions may be discussed with the dean of students and the chief of police. Cost of police personnel is to be covered by the persons/groups sponsoring the event.

VIII. CAMPUS SERVICES & FACILITIES

Academic Advising

ASC. ext. 8060

Academic Advisors play a key role in inspiring students with an awareness of skills and competencies associated with academic success, the ability for meaningful self-reflection, and the use of sound decision-making skills. Freshmen students' advisors are their FE134 instructors. Once this course is complete, students are then moved to an advisor in their major area of interest. All advisors are full-time faculty members of TLU and help to facilitate student learning. Questions about academic advising or changing of advisors should be directed to the Student Life and Learning Office, 830-372-8060.

Academic Support

Meadows Center. ASC. ext. 6305

The Academic Support Center, located in the Alumni Student Center, is a resource for all TLU students who want to work toward greater academic success. Activities include peer and group tutoring, study skills workshops, individual instruction on time management, goal setting and study skills, development of individual learning plans, and various resources for self-management and study. The center provides the Supplemental Instruction and Peer Tutoring programs that are offered at no cost to all students enrolled at TLU. The center also provides the Sophomore Connection program, in collaboration with First-Year and Campus Programs, Residence Life, and the Early Alert program. For more information, see the Academic Support website at www.tlu.edu under Academics.

Supplemental Instruction - Supplemental Instruction is an academic assistance program that increases student performance in classes. SI sessions are attached to historically difficult classes and provide help in clarifying important information and developing study skills for the targeted course. Sessions are led by student facilitators and are held three times a week starting at the beginning of the semester. SI sessions and meeting times are advertised through the participating courses and on the TLU website.

Peer Tutoring - The mission of Peer Tutoring Services is to provide academic support in a safe and friendly setting for all TLU students who need assistance gaining the confidence, skills and/or knowledge necessary to achieve their academic goals and to help them become independent learners. Our program provides trained and carefully selected tutors who are eager to help others achieve individual learning goals and ultimately create a successful educational experience.

Sophomore Connection - The sophomore year is a critical time in a student's life to explore meaning, purpose, values and identity. It is a time to begin planning the future by discovering who you are and what matters to you. By participating in Sophomore Connection events, you will be exposed to ideas and activities that will enrich your sophomore experience and help you to explore where you're going and what you'll be doing in your post-college life. Sophomore Connection events can help you learn about important local and global issues, as well as possible majors and vocations, internships, and study abroad. The program is sponsored by the Division of Student Life and Learning.

Early Academic Alerts - Three weeks into each semester, instructors receive rosters of students who are in their first year at TLU, are new transfers, are honors students, athletes or are on academic probation. The instructors are asked to identify behaviors that might influence each student's academic progress including attendance, participation, quality of homework, whether tutoring or counseling might be beneficial, or if the student is no longer attending classes. Six weeks into each semester, instructors are asked to submit course averages for these students. These early alerts are used to provide progress reports to students, academic advisors, the students' Peer Mentors, and university officials who provide guidance and support for any student who appears to be at risk.

Goals for the program address the following issues common to the sophomore year:

- Questioning beliefs and value.
- Searching for meaning, purpose, and identity.
- Exploring and selecting an academic major and possible vocational choices.
- Dealing with pressures related to future plans including internships, study abroad and life after college.
- Questioning whether to remain at the institution of original matriculation or transfer.

IX. STATEMENT ON UNIVERSITY GOVERNANCE

Texas Lutheran University is owned and operated by the Texas Lutheran University Corporation. The corporation consists of representatives from each of the three Evangelical Lutheran Church in America synods in closest proximity to the University: Northern Texas-Northern Louisiana Synod, Texas-Louisiana Gulf Coast Synod and Southwestern Texas Synod. Seven additional members are appointed by the University Board of Regents.

The corporation entrusts the actual governing of the University to the Board of Regents, which is, in actual practice, the final authority in all matters relating to the University.

The president of the University represents the board in the day-by-day operation of the University. It is his/her responsibility to recommend policies to the board, to interpret policies on behalf of the board, and to provide for implementation of the board policies. In these responsibilities, the president is assisted by the various members of the administrative staff, whom he/she appoints. In addition, the faculty and students play an important role in developing various policies.

The faculty meets regularly to transact business. The faculty has delegated some of its responsibilities to committees or councils, most of which have administrative staff and student membership.

The Student Government Association is the primary agency of student involvement in institutional governance. Students participate in the management of the residence halls through elected councils.

Decisions of the faculty, the student association, and University committees, councils, or organizations are subject to review by the Board of Regents (or the president, as representing the board) before becoming effective. In unusual circumstances, the president representing the board may make exceptions to established policies and procedures.

This statement is intended to reflect the current situation at TLU and is in harmony with the University's articles of incorporation and the relevant sections in the Faculty Handbook.

Administrative staff, faculty, and students who choose to attend or to work at TLU indicate thereby that they accept and support the policies of the University. They should be aware that policies may change during their tenure at Texas Lutheran. Indeed, they or their representatives will normally participate in continual evaluation of policies and in the making of policy changes.

X. THE CONSTITUTION OF THE TLU STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION
